E3.1.1. Reference (a) concerning claims in general when there is no other settlement authority specifically provided for by law.¹

E3.1.2. Reference (b) concerning the disposition of unclaimed personal property on a military installation.

E3.1.3. Reference (c) concerning the final settlement of accounts of deceased members of the armed forces (but not the National Guard).²

E3.1.4. References (d), (e), and (f) concerning the disposition of the effects of a deceased person who was subject to military law at a place or command under the jurisdiction of the Army or Air Force or of deceased residents of the Armed Forces Retirement Home.

E3.1.5. Reference (g), concerning the sale of personal property of members of the Uniformed Services who are in a missing status.

E3.1.6. Reference (h), concerning the final settlement of accounts of deceased members of the National Guard.²

² Claims under this statute are actually settled under the authority in 31 U.S.C. 3702 (reference (a)), because there is no specific settlement authority in the statute.
