FROM THE WHS DIRECTIVES DIVISION

The DoD Issuances Style Guide consolidates and updates the information formerly found in:

- DoD Issuances Standards
- Directive-type Memorandum Standards
- Deputy Secretary of Defense Summary of Change Standards
- DoD Issuance Change Standards
- Writing Style Guide and Preferred Usage

The intention is to provide a single, comprehensive source for guidance for writing and updating DoD issuances. Substantive changes to this guide not specifically directed by the Secretary of Defense, Deputy Secretary of Defense, or Chief Management Officer of the Department of Defense are reviewed by the DoD Components through their issuance focal points in accordance with DoD Instruction 5025.01, "DoD Issuances Program."

If you have any questions or comments on the Style Guide contents, please contact our office at whs.mc-alex.esd.mbx.dod-directives-senior-editor@mail.mil.

Chief, Issuance Compliance Branch
WHS Directives Division

SECTION 1: WRITING GUIDANCE

GENERAL PRINCIPLES

1.1. DoD Issuances Website.

All DoD issuances are published on the DoD Issuances Website (<https://www.esd.whs.mil/DD/> (unclassified) and <https://directives.whs.smil.mil> (classified)). See Section 12 for a list of additional resources on the Website for writing and publishing issuances. Any references to “the Website” in this guide refers to the unclassified DoD Issuances Website.

1.2. Plain Language.

In accordance with the Plain Writing Act of 2010 and DoD Instruction 5025.13, the DoD is committed to using plain language in its documents. This section provides basic tips on writing clearly and concisely, but there are other plain writing resources listed in Section 12.

1.3. Organization.

Write DoD issuances clearly and concisely. Using an outline will help you organize your issuance and keep it focused. Where the issuance templates don't provide a specific structure, organize sections and appendices so that earlier paragraphs serve to make later paragraphs clear. As much as possible, use paragraph headings to highlight important concepts so the reader can see at a glance what the paragraph is about. For main paragraphs (e.g., the “1.1” level), it's highly recommended that you use paragraph headings so the issuance is easier to navigate.

1.4. Conciseness.

Use short, simple words. Limit sentences to one thought and keep them brief (an average of 20 or fewer words). Avoid long, rambling paragraphs. If a paragraph is longer than 10 lines, it should probably be broken up into subparagraphs. See Figure 1 for an example.

Before (too long and unnecessarily confusing): Once the employee's self-evaluation is completed, the employee's supervisor is notified that the evaluation is ready for discussion to identify concerns and areas of improvement. A performance improvement plan is then developed and discussed with the supervisor who then will agree to approve and adjust as necessary the individualized plan that meets the employment needs of the employee and real business needs of the employer. After (shorter and clearer): After you complete a self-evaluation, you will meet with your supervisor to talk about your performance for the year. Together, you will identify areas where you can improve and any concerns you have. Your supervisor will work with you to finalize a performance improvement plan that meets both your and your employer's needs.
--

1.5. Contractions.

Using contraction is permitted, but must be used with discretion.

1.6. Sentence Construction.

Write in active voice instead of passive voice. Say who is performing which action; the noun (e.g., the person, position, or organization) should precede the verb (the action). See Table 1 for examples. Use parallel construction (i.e., the same grammatical structure for similar or related ideas). See Table 2 for examples.

Table 1. Characteristics and Examples of Passive and Active Voice

Passive Voice	Active Voice
Frequently omits the doer of the action. An information copy of the board meeting minutes must be forwarded to the members. A military chaplain of a particular religious organization may be appointed as a consultant.	Identifies the doer. The Chair must forward an information copy of the board meeting minutes to the members. The Board may appoint a military chaplain of a particular religious organization as a consultant.
Frequently is longer and less direct; frequently includes a "by" phrase. A written agreement will be executed by the parties. Implementing instructions will be issued by the DoD Components.	Gets to the point. The parties execute a written agreement. The DoD Components issue implementing instructions.

Table 2. Examples of Parallel Construction

EXAMPLE 1
Not Parallel The physical review of the ID card must verify the identification matches the beneficiary, the correct entitlement dates, whether medical care for the beneficiary is authorized, and that no one has tampered with the card. Parallel The physical review of the ID card must verify the identification matches the beneficiary, the entitlement dates are correct, the beneficiary is authorized to receive medical care, and the card hasn't been tampered with.
EXAMPLE 2
Not Parallel The Military Services: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Train Service members. b. Provide services that support Service member morale, welfare, and recreation. c. Bonuses may be paid to eligible personnel. Parallel The Military Services: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> a. Train Service members. b. Provide services that support Service member morale, welfare, and recreation. c. Provide bonuses to eligible personnel.

1.7. Copying, Quoting, and Paraphrasing.

The content of your issuance must be original. Don't copy and paste material directly from another issuance or reference to use as a section or appendix. Instead, cite references where such content can be found and define the relationship between the reference and your issuance. For examples, see the terms "in accordance with," "per," and "pursuant to" in Table 3.

1.8. Tone.

The tone in an issuance should be neutral, clear, and direct in nature. Don't use justifications to explain why your issuance is valuable or why policy on this subject matter is necessary. If the Secretary or Deputy Secretary of Defense or your Component head is signing the document, then it has value to DoD. As a general rule, historical information doesn't belong in a DoD issuance, which is imperative in nature.

1.9. Classified Information.

Follow the guidelines in DoD Manual (DoDM) 5200.01 to properly identify classified information and handle and mark classified documents.

ISSUANCE LENGTH

1.10. DoD Directives (DoDDs).

DoDDs must not exceed 12 pages. Chartering directives issued by Organizational Policy and Decision Support, Office of the Chief Management Officer of the Department of Defense (OCMO), are the exception.

1.11. DoD Instructions (DoDIs) and Administrative Instructions (AIs).

DoDIs and AIs must not exceed 50 pages. If the DoDI or AI needs to be longer than 50 pages, separate the DoDI or AI into volumes.

1.12. DoDMs.

DoDMs must not exceed 100 pages. If the DoDM needs to be longer than 100 pages, separate the DoDM into volumes.

1.13. Directive-type Memorandums (DTMS).

While there is no specific page limit to DTMS, they must follow the requirements for action or information memos found in DoDM 5110.04.

1.14. Waivers.

If a single document must exceed the standard page length, the originating OSD Component leadership must request a page waiver from the Director, Washington Headquarters Services (WHS) through the Directives Division (DD). The waiver request must explain the necessity for the page length of the document and be submitted to WHS/DD no later than the Presignature Review stage. To download a waiver template, go the Website → DoD Issuances → Issuance Toolbox → Forms, Templates, and Resources → Action Memorandums → Page Waiver Action Memo.

CAPITALIZATION

1.15. Classifications.

When referring to types of security clearances or the level of classified information in a document, capitalize the first letter of each word (i.e., Controlled Unclassified Information, Confidential, Secret, or Top Secret). When applying a classification level in the header and/or footer in an issuance, use all caps (e.g., SECRET//NOFORN). See Volume 2 of DoDM 5200.01 for more information on classification markings.

1.16. Common Nouns.

Lowercase common nouns (e.g., acquisition, human resources, program manager). See Table 3 for an extensive list of preferred usage and capitalization.

1.17. Proper Nouns.

Capitalize unique names of individuals or organizations (e.g., Federal Government, Deputy Secretary of Defense). See Paragraph 1.18. for additional information.

1.18. Positions and Titles.

Only capitalize an individual's title if it is a unique title. For example, capitalize "Under Secretary of Defense for Policy" because there's only one Under Secretary of Defense for Policy (USD(P)). The term "program manager" should be lowercase because many people have that title. Exceptions: Combatant Commander, Combatant Command, and Secretaries of the Military Departments.

1.19. DoD Issuances.

If you're referring to a specific document (e.g., DoD Instruction 5025.01), capitalize it. If you're referring to a type of document in general (e.g., "DoD manuals"), lowercase it.

PUNCTUATION

1.20. Spacing.

Use two spaces after a period.

1.21. Semicolon.

Use semicolons to separate two independent, but related, clauses; clarify items in a long sentence; or separate items in a numbered list. If you make a list of options, use “or” at the end of the second-to-last item. If absolutely necessary for clarity, you may use “and” at the end of the second-to-last item. Semicolons should be used with caution, as they can be harder to follow compared to separate sentences. See Figure 2 for examples.

Two Independent Clauses:

Service members are entitled to healthcare; their spouses and families will also receive healthcare.

Clarify List Items:

To recover your PIN, you must visit your local bank branch; call the toll-free number on the back of your card; or e-mail the customer service address located on the Website.

Itemized List:

1.1. The Measures of Merit may include:

- a. Integrated pest management planning;
- b. Pesticide use;
- c. Pesticide applicator certification; or
- d. Pesticide reporting and archiving.

1.22. Virgule (/).

Use “and,” or “or,” depending on the meaning (e.g., instead of “production/deployment,” use “production and deployment,” or “production or deployment.”) Occasionally the use of “and/or” may be appropriate, but it should be restricted to avoid confusion. Virgules are acceptable when they are part of an official title (e.g. National Security Agency/Central Security Service).

PREFERRED USAGE

1.23. Helping Verbs.

Use the following helping verbs as appropriate to clarify the actor’s level of obligation:

Use “must” to denote a mandatory action.

Use “will” to denote a required action in the future.

Use “may” or “can” to denote an optional action that the actor is authorized to perform (a right, privilege, or power that the actor may exercise at their discretion).

Do not use “shall.”

1.24. Generic Pronouns.

Don’t use “he” or “she” or “his” or “her” as possessive pronouns. Use gender neutral terms such as “they” or “their.”

1.25. Personal Pronouns and Point of View.

Don’t use the personal pronouns “I,” “we,” and “you.” Always use third person, gender neutral terms such as “it” and “they.”

1.26. Use of the Term “See” and Parenthetical Remarks.

When the term “see” is used as directional material (e.g., “See Section 4 for more information.”), place the phrase in parentheses at the end of the sentence or as a stand-alone sentence. Briefly explain why the reader is being referred elsewhere; don’t just say “See Section 4.”

Avoid the use of other parenthetical remarks. (See Paragraph 2.31. for use of the term “note.”) If the information is important to the issuance, incorporate it into the appropriate sentence or paragraph.

1.27. Referring to Your Issuance.

If you need to refer to your issuance in the text, say “in accordance with this issuance” when referring to the issuance as a whole or “in accordance with this volume” when referring to a specific volume. “Issuance” or “volume” should always be lowercase when being used in general terms; if you are referring to a specific volume by number, it’s capitalized (e.g., “Volume 1”).

1.28. Referring to Multi-volume Issuances.

Within the text itself, always say “...this volume” if you’re only referring to the volume itself. Use the phrase “...this [instruction/manual/administrative instruction]” if you’re referring to the entire work (i.e., all the volumes).

1.29. Numbers.

Always use Arabic numerals for units of measurement, time, and money. Otherwise, use an Arabic numeral for numbers 10 or higher; for a number smaller than 10, write the number out. Avoid beginning a sentence with a numeral. If you must start the sentence with a numeral, it must be written out.

1.30. Percentages.

Use the word “percent,” not the percentage symbol (%) in general text. The percentage symbol may be used in tables or figures with large groups of numbers.

1.31. Money.

Use a dollar sign ($) and numerals to represent specific amounts of money (e.g., $300,000). If the number is $1 million or greater, spell out million, billion, or trillion (e.g., $2.25 billion).

1.32. Other Symbols.

Mathematical symbols are only used in equations or formulas. Otherwise, the terminology should be written out (e.g. “If the average performance score equals...” not “If the average performance score = ...”).

1.33. Preferred Usage List.

Table 3 provides more specific preferred capitalization, terminology, wording, and use of abbreviations and acronyms in DoD issuances. For military terminology, use the DoD Dictionary of Military and Associated Terms.

SECTION 2: FORMATTING

STYLE PALETTE AND FONT

2.1. DoD Issuances Template.

Always start from the beginning and use a template downloaded from the Website for both new and reissued issuances. Don't take an existing version you have and try to modify it to look like the current template. For how-to guidance on using Microsoft (MS) Word features in the current standards and template, go to the Guide to Using Word Features in DoD Issuances on the Website.

2.2. Auto Formatting.

Don't use the MS Word AutoFormat function; it's not compatible with the issuance template. This is an automatic MS Word function, and you must turn it off before beginning work on your document. To do so, refer to How Do I Shut Off MS Word Auto Formatting? on the Website.

2.3. Style Palette.

Instead of directly applying formatting to text, use the Style presets in the template. Don't use manual tabs or multiple hard returns. Spacing, indentation, and color are already included in the Style palette. Each style is numbered and named based on where it should be used in the document (e.g., "02_1.1. Heading" is used for a main paragraph heading, "03_1.1. Text" is used for text in a main paragraph that isn't a heading). See Figure 3 for images of DoD issuance styles.

2.4. Bold.

Use bolding sparingly for emphasis, not underlining, italics, or color. Overuse of bolding will actually reduce the effectiveness of your emphasis, so only choose one or two words to emphasize. There is no preset style for bold text. Use the font feature.

2.5. Italics.

Use italics when using foreign (e.g., Latin) terms or when citing legal cases. There is no preset style for italic text. Use the font feature.

2.6. Hyperlinks.

You may refer to website uniform resource locators (URLs), but don't use hyperlinks.

TABLE OF CONTENTS (TOC)

2.7. TOC Structure and Requirements.

The TOC provides a sequential list of the issuance structure with each section's number, title, and starting page location. The TOC is distinct from the rest of the issuance's content. TOC is mandatory for all issuances; if you feel it is unnecessary, talk to your compliance analyst about waiving the requirement.

If your issuance has figures or tables other than those in the Glossary, you must have Tables and Figures sections in your TOC.

2.8. TOC Creation and Update.

The TOC is generated automatically from heading styles in the body of the issuance. Titles and headings appear exactly as they are in the issuance each time you update the TOC. Don't manually change the text in the TOC itself. Instead, adjust the appropriate text in the body of the issuance and update your TOC. If you have Tables and Figures sections in your TOC, they must be updated separately.

2.9. TOC Paragraph Levels.

Section titles and 1.1. level paragraph titles, when used, are the only mandatory levels needed in the TOC. However, the template's default Style set, as shown in Figure 3, creates links to the TOC for paragraph headings down to the a. paragraph level. These styles also appear in the Navigation pane.

2.10. Acronyms.

Acronyms are not established in the TOC; they only appear to be if the acronym is being established in the paragraph header the TOC is pulling from. See Section 7 for more information. PARAGRAPH FORMATTING

2.11. Section and Paragraph Numbering.

All issuance text should be part of a paragraph number. If a section has multiple main paragraphs at the 1.1. level, number it as shown in Figure 4. If a section has main paragraphs with no headers, it must be formatted as illustrated in Figure 5. If a section has only one main paragraph, it must be formatted as illustrated in Figure 6. If a section has only main paragraphs (i.e., there are no subparagraphs in the section), it must be numbered as shown in Figure 7.

2.12. Paragraph Line Spacing.

If you use a heading, insert a hard return afterward and insert your text on the next line. Don't use a style separator to keep text on the same line.

SECTION 3: PARAGRAPH NUMBERING AND FORMATTING

SECTION 3: PARAGRAPH NUMBERING AND FORMATTING

3.1. PARAGRAPH TITLE. Number the paragraph. Use of paragraph headings is optional, but must be consistent (e.g., if Paragraph 3.1 has a heading, then following paragraphs must, as well.)

3.2. PARAGRAPH TITLE.

OR

3.1. Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet...If paragraph headings aren't used, simply number the paragraph and insert the text. Apply the "1.1. Text" style. This heading style won't appear in the TOC.

3.2. Lorem ipsum dolor sit amet...

2.13. Subparagraphs.

To have a subparagraph at a particular level (e.g., Paragraph 1.1.a.) you must have additional paragraphs at that level (e.g., Paragraph 1.1.b.). Don't create subparagraphs below the "a." level. If you have material subordinate to that level, reorganize the material at a higher level.

2.14. Headings.

Be consistent with headings. For example, if you have a heading at the 1.1.a. level, all paragraphs at that level under Paragraph 1.1. must have a heading too. Do not add headings at the 1. or a. paragraph level.

2.15. Mailing Addresses.

Mailing addresses are the exception to the rule for paragraph numbering and indentation; they may stand alone outside of a figure or table after an introductory paragraph. The left margin of the address block will be aligned with the first line of the paragraph (e.g., if the paragraph is indented .25", the left margin of the address block will be .25"). The address must come at the end of the paragraph.

TABLES AND FIGURES

2.16. When to Use Tables and Figures.

If you want to insert text in a non-standard format, insert the text in a figure or table. The only exception is when providing a mailing address (See Paragraph 2.15. for more information). Don't use tables or figures on Page 1 or in the TOC. Tables and figures are subject to Section 508 requirements. See <https://dodcio.defense.gov/DoDSection508.aspx> for Section 508 guidance.

2.17. Tables.

Use a table to present information that is best communicated in tabular rather than paragraph form (i.e., arranged systematically by columns or rows).

2.18. Figures.

Use a figure to present information that is best communicated as either an illustration (e.g., flowchart, image, or drawing) or a textual depiction (e.g., sample template for a memo). Due to file size restrictions, avoid using photos.

2.19. Formatting.

Center the table or figure on the page. Place the table or figure on the same page or as close to the text it supports as possible. Don't place the table or figure in the middle of a paragraph or subparagraph.

2.20. Font.

Text inside a table or figure may not be smaller than 9-point font size. If using color in a table or figure, the table or figure must still be legible when printed in black-and-white hard copy.

2.21. Captions.

Use the “Caption” function of MS Word to label tables and figures and indicate that the caption should appear above the table or figure. Apply the “12_Table/Figure Title” Style to title. Table and figure numbering and titles in the TOC are generated through these captions each time you update the TOC. See the Guide to Using Word Features in DoD Issuances on the Website for additional guidance.

2.22. Multi-page Tables and Figures.

2.23. Forms.

Don’t include existing or proposed forms as figures or tables in DoD issuances; subsequent updates of the forms will make the issuance obsolete. However, you may provide a sample template of a memo or of how a form should be completed. You must make it clear that the content is a sample.

ISSUANCE SECTIONS AND LAYOUT

2.24. Template Sections.

Sections 1 and 2 and the Glossary and Reference sections are all mandatory. Section 1 will always be General Issuance Information. Section 2 will always be Responsibilities. Sections 3 and 4 are provided in the template for your convenience, but can be deleted if they aren’t needed.

2.25. Additional Sections.

The order of procedures (excluding DoDDs because they don’t have procedures) or other additional sections depends on the issuance’s content and complexity. Procedures may be structured in step-by-step sequence, by subject matter with related requirements, by situation and response, or on a combination of these and other factors.

2.26. Organizing Sections.

When the procedures are extensive and involve two or more distinct categories of content, separate them into two or more sections. A section should be specific enough that a reader understands the content of the section based on the title alone. For example, a section titled “Procedures” may be too broad if that one section has 40 pages of information with five distinct topics. Instead, consider breaking up that section into multiple sections with more specific titles, e.g., “Formatting an Issuance,” “Purpose Statements.”

2.27. Appendices.

Use an appendix or appendices to publish information that adds to or supplements a section. Refer to appendices in the text of the sections they support. Appendices immediately follow the section they support. List them in the order they are mentioned in text. Identify appendices by the number of the section they follow and a capitalized letter listed in alphabetical order (e.g., A, B, C). Appendix lettering restarts for each section, so you may have Appendices 1A, 1B, 2A, 2B, and 3A. Use the following format using the 01_Section Title Style:

APPENDIX 1A: REQUIRED DATA

2.28. Using MS Word Section Breaks.

Use MS Word section breaks for separating different sections or appendices of an issuance. The template provides MS Word sections for the mandatory parts of the issuance (Page 1, the TOC, Section 1: General Issuance Information, Section 2: Responsibilities, the Glossary, and the Reference section), as well as Sections 3 and 4 with filler text. If you don’t need a preset section, delete the applicable section, and adjust any footers as necessary. If more sections are required, add new MS Word sections by selecting Page Layout → Breaks → Section Breaks → Next Page. Headers.

All pages but Page 1 will have a visible header. Use the headers preset in the template. Don’t change the formatting of the header. Select the issuance type (e.g., DoDD, DoDI, or DoDM) as applicable from the dropdown menu, and enter the issuance number. If the issuance is one volume in a multi-volume issuance, add “[comma] Volume #” after the issuance number (e.g., DoDI 1234.56, Volume 1). If the issuance isn’t a change, remove the second line “(if a change...)” entirely from the header.

2.30. Footers.

All pages but Page 1 will have a footer; they are preset in the template for all mandatory sections. Don't change the formatting. Starting at Section 3, add the section number and title to the footer. The title must match the title provided at the beginning of the section. Type the footer text in title case (i.e., With the Beginning of Each Principle Word Capitalized). To add new sections with different footers, insert MS Word section breaks.

2.31. Footnotes and Endnotes.

Don't use endnotes or the word "NOTE" in DoD issuances. Use footnotes only in tables or figures as necessary or in the Reference section to direct the reader to publications not readily found on an official government website using an internet search engine. See Paragraph 8.3. for more guidance on using footnotes in the Reference section.

SECTION 3: COVER PAGE GUIDANCE

3.1. Requirements.

The cover page provides broad information about the issuance instead of the subject matter. It always includes the DoD seal, general information about the issuance, and its purpose. The information on Page 1 of your issuance is required, but delete any lines that don't apply to your issuance (e.g., the change date line for a new issuance). See Figure 8 for a sample issuance cover page; Paragraphs 0. through 3.17. correspond with the numbers in Figure 8.

3.2. DoD Seal.

Required. The DoD seal is centered at the top of the page. It is provided in the template. Don't remove or modify.

3.3. Issuance Type.

Required. The issuance types are supplied in the template in a drop down menu. Select from the menu as appropriate for the issuance. Review DoD Issuances Defined on the Website for more guidance.

3.4. Issuance Number.

Required. Include the issuance number, as appropriate. For issuances separated into volumes, the issuance number will be followed by “[comma] Volume [#]” (e.g., DoD Instruction 1234.56, Volume 1). Review DoD Issuance Numbering System on the Website for guidance on assigning a number to your new issuance. WHS/DD will check and confirm your choice during precoordination review. See Paragraph 4.8. for issuances that designate DoD Executive Agents (EAs).

3.5. Issuance Title.

Required. Include the title based on the subject of the issuance. Be specific about the topic of your issuance, but not overly so; if possible, the title shouldn't exceed two lines. Don't use the same title for more than one issuance. For issuances separated into volumes, list the issuance title, followed by a colon and the volume-specific title (i.e., [Instruction/Manual] Title: Volume-Specific Title). Don't establish acronyms in your title.

3.6. Double Separating Line.

Required. A double line separates the DoD seal and issuance type, number, and title from the remainder of the Page 1 information. Don't remove or modify the line.

3.7. Originating Component.

Required. The originating OSD Component list is in the template in a drop down menu. Select your Component from the menu.

3.8. Effective Date.

Required. WHS/DD enters the date the issuance becomes effective during publication preparation. Typically the issuance is effective when it is published to the Website. Don't remove the line.

3.9. Change # Date.

Only required if the action is a change. If the issuance is being changed, don't remove the line. Insert the appropriate number for the change. If the issuance is being changed for the first time since it was published, adjust “#” to “1.” WHS/DD enters the date the change becomes effective during publication preparation. Typically the issuance is effective when it is published to the Website. If the issuance isn't a change, then remove the line completely.

3.10. Releasability.

Required. Standard releasability statements are in the template in drop down menus. Select from the menu as appropriate for the issuance. See Figure 9 for the standard issuance releasability statements. For guidance on determining releasability, go to DoDD 5230.9, DoDI 5230.29, and Secretary of Defense MESSAGE: INFORMATION SECURITY/WEBSITE ALERT.

3.11. Reissues and Cancels.

Required for issuances being reissued (if the document is a new DoD issuance, remove the entire line). List the type, number, title, and publication date of the current online version. Don't include this issuance in the Reference section.

3.12. Incorporates and Cancels.

Required for issuances incorporating and canceling other documents or parts of documents. List the type, number, title, and publication date of the documents being incorporated and canceled (e.g., an issuance, a memorandum). If you're incorporating and canceling multiple documents, list the documents alphabetically on subsequent lines. Only one "incorporates and cancels" heading is needed.

Documents being incorporated and canceled must not be cited in the issuance or included in the Reference section. If multiple documents cause your Page 1 info to roll over to the second page, state "See Paragraph 1.#." and list the documents after the Policy paragraph of Section 1, titling the paragraph appropriately.

3.13. Cancels.

Required for issuances canceling other documents or parts of documents. List the type, number, title, and publication date of the documents being canceled (e.g., an issuance, a memorandum) in the applicable areas provided in the template. If you're canceling multiple documents, list the documents alphabetically on subsequent lines. Only one "cancels" heading is needed.

Don't include any documents already listed in Paragraphs 3.11. or 3.12. If a multi-volume issuance is reissuing a single DoDI, DoDM, or DoD publication, only Volume 1 of the new issuance will contain the cancellation line.

Don't include documents being canceled in the Reference section. If multiple documents cause your Page 1 info to roll over to the second page, state "See Paragraph 1.#." and list the documents after the Policy paragraph of Section 1, titling the paragraph appropriately.

3.14. Approved By.

Required. Include the name and title of the individual approving the issuance. Your action memo will include an approval line, which will indicate the signature authority's approval of the issuance; however, they won't sign the issuance itself. Go to the List of Signature Authorities on the Website for more information.

DoDDs are approved by the Secretary or Deputy Secretary of Defense.

DoDIs are approved by the originating OSD Component head.

DoDMs may be approved by the OSD Component head, the Principal Deputy, or an OSD Presidentially appointed, Senate-confirmed official.

Als are approved by the Chief Management Officer of the Department of Defense or the Director, WHS.

3.15. Change # Approved By.

Only required if a change. If the issuance is being changed, insert the name and title of the individual approving the change. Your signature authority will approve the change on the action memo's approval line; they won't sign the issuance itself. Unless a waiver has been granted in coordination with WHS/DD, change approval authority is same as identified in Paragraph 3.14.

3.16. Single Separating Line.

Required. A single line separates the information mentioned in Paragraphs 3.7. through 3.15. from the purpose. Don't remove or modify the line.

3.17. Purpose.

Required. See Section 4 for details and examples on writing a purpose statement.

3.18. Blank lines.

One blank line follows the DoD seal; the issuance type and number line; the title line; the double separating line; the originating OSD Component line; the date group (i.e., either the effective or change date line); the releasability line; the reissues, incorporates, and cancels group (i.e., the cancels line), the signed by line; and the single separating line.

3.19. Cancelling Multiple Documents.

If your issuance is cancelling (or incorporating and cancelling) so many documents that noting them all on the first page is awkward, they should be placed in a paragraph after the Policy paragraph, but before the Information Collections paragraph, if the issuance has one. See Figure 10 for an example.

Purpose: This issuance provides an example how to format an issuance that cancels multiple issuances.

SECTION 1: GENERAL ISSUANCE INFORMATION

1.1. APPLICABILITY.

This issuance applies to OSD, the Military Departments, the Office of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Joint Staff, the Combatant Commands, the Office of the Inspector General of the Department of Defense, the Defense Agencies, the DoD Field Activities, and all other organizational entities within the DoD (referred to collectively in this issuance as the “DoD Components”).

1.2. POLICY.

- a. The Policy statement will remain Paragraph 1.2.
- b. The cancelled documents will follow this paragraph.

1.3. CANCELLED DOCUMENTS.

This issuance cancels the following documents:

- a. Deputy Secretary of Defense Memorandums:
 - (1) “Advisory Committee Management,” October 9, 2014.
 - (2) “Delegations of Authority to Administer Oaths,” February 27, 2013.
 - (3) “Premium Class Travel Program,” January 18, 2005
- b. DoD Directive 5105.53, “Director of Administration and Management (DA&M),” February 26, 2006
- c. DoD Directive 5148.11, “Assistant to the Secretary of Defense for Intelligence and Oversight (ATSD(IO)),” April 24, 2013
- d. Office of Management Budget Memorandum M-05-08, “Designation of Senior Agency Officials for Privacy,” February 11, 2005

1.4. INFORMATION COLLECTIONS.

If you issuance has information collections requirements, it will remain as the last paragraph in this section.

SECTION 4: PURPOSE STATEMENTS

REQUIREMENTS

4.1. General.

State concisely why the issuance is being published. The most common framework for an issuance's purpose statement is:

"In accordance with the authority in [chartering DoDD], this issuance establishes policy, assigns responsibilities, and provides procedures for [subject matter]."

4.2. Length.

If possible, keep the purpose to half a page or less so it fits on Page 1 of the document. Format.

The main content of the purpose should directly follow the text supplied in the template. Any text listed as sub-points of the main purpose should be bulleted. If there are no sub-points, delete the bullets provided in the template. Authority.

Cite the document that gives the person approving the issuance the authority to do so. For OSD Component heads this will, as a rule, be their charter, which is in the 5100 series of DoDDs. DoDDs approved by the Deputy Secretary will almost always be authorized by law or Executive order. Include a reference to any other document that provides the reason for the issuance being published and any other issuances that inform its content, e.g., a DoDI requiring development of detailed procedures in your DoDM.

4.5. Special Authority Requirements.

Any current special authority requirements (changes or additions to OSD Component head charter authorities) are listed in Addendum A to this Style Guide, available on the Website. Be sure to review this addendum when developing your issuance.

4.6. Implementing or Establishing Policy.

The purpose section must state whether policy is being established or implemented. Be very clear which is the case, and don't use verbs such as "sets forth," "updates," "describes," etc., when discussing policy. Policy statements may differ based on the type of issuance.

DoDDs establish policy.

DoDIs can establish and implement policy. If a document is only implementing policy, it should be a manual.

DoDMs can only implement policy, not establish it.

Als typically only implement DoD policy for the WHS-Serviced components, typically in the National Capital Region, although they may establish WHS-specific policy.

Issuances that implement policy must clearly state the DoDD, DoDI, or law where the policy being implemented is established.

4.7. Groups.

Identify any committees, working groups, boards, or other entities the issuance establishes in a separate bullet.

4.8. DoD EAs.

For DoDDs, identify any DoD EAs and their area of interest in a separate bullet and include a reference to DoDD 5101.1. When a DoD EA is designated, place an “E” at the end of the DoDD number (e.g., Page 1 and subsequent headers should read “1234.56E”).

4.9. Multi-volume Issuances.

For multi-volume Als, DoDIs, or DoDMs, the purpose consists of one basic statement pertaining to the issuance’s purpose in its entirety (i.e., all the volumes) and a volume-specific statement summarizing the content of the subject volume. The purpose of the overall manual or instruction must be identical in every volume; exceptions may include changes in the authoritative guidance or issuance formatting.

SECTION 5: GENERAL ISSUANCE INFORMATION GUIDANCE

OVERVIEW

- 5.1. General issuance information is required and is always Section 1 of an issuance. It contains the applicability, policy, and, when applicable, information collections and summary of change paragraphs. Additional general information may be included in coordination with WHS/DD.

APPLICABILITY

- 5.2. Required for all issuances. Use one of the standard applicability statements provided in Figure 16. If the issuance applies to organizations not listed in the standard statements or applies only under certain conditions, separate the paragraph into subparagraphs as shown in Figure 17.

For multi-volume issuances, each volume has its own applicability statement as shown in Figure 18.

For AIs, follow the guidance in Figure 19.

SAMPLE APPLICABILITY STATEMENTS

- b. Does not apply to commissioned warrant officers and retired commissioned officers of the Military Services.

When the issuance applies only under certain circumstances:

1.1. APPLICABILITY.

- a. This issuance applies:
 - (1) To [standard statement]. Always place the standard statement first.
 - (2) When a Service member, U.S. citizen, civilian employee of the DoD, or any other person determined by the Under Secretary of Defense for Policy to be a covered person becomes involuntarily absent as a result of a hostile action and is unaccounted for or otherwise in an undetermined status.
- b. The provisions of this issuance pertaining to boards of inquiry don't apply when a covered person becomes accounted for or is otherwise determined to be in a status other than missing (i.e., deserted, absent without leave, or dead).

For multi-volume issuances, each volume's applicability, policy, and responsibilities are particular to that volume only. When the subject volume does not apply in certain circumstances:

1.1. APPLICABILITY. This volume:

- a. Applies to [standard statement and any qualifying statements that pertain to the entire issuance].
- b. Does not apply to fill actions when such actions would detract from ongoing equal opportunity programs, i.e., when fill actions would have an adverse impact on programs for persons with disabilities, for achievement of minority and gender equality, or for affirmative employment of veterans.

When the subject volume does not apply to certain persons in (or sub-elements of) the organizations in the standard statement:

1.1. APPLICABILITY. This volume:

- a. Applies to [standard statement and any qualifying statements that pertain to the entire manual].
- b. Does not apply to active duty military members; DoD contractors, current or former employees of contractors, or applicants for employment with contractors; current or former employees of, or applicants for employment with, the Army and Air Force Exchange Service; or local nationals employed by the DoD outside of the United States.

When the statement applies to only certain of the DoD Components that may be serviced by WHS.

Sample 1:

1.1. APPLICABILITY. This issuance applies to OSD. In this example, no parenthetical statement is needed as the term “WHS-serviced Components” isn’t used in the AI.

Sample 2: Applicability restricted to the National Capital Region.

1.1. APPLICABILITY. This issuance applies to OSD, the Defense Agencies, and the DoD Field Activities in the National Capital Region that are serviced by Washington Headquarters Services (WHS) (referred to collectively in this AI as the “WHS-serviced Components”).

Sample 3:

1.1. APPLICABILITY. This issuance applies to OSD, the Office of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Joint Staff, the Defense Advanced Research Projects Agency, the Defense Security Cooperation Agency, the Missile Defense Agency, and the DoD Field Activities that are serviced by Washington Headquarters Services (WHS) (referred to collectively in this AI as the “WHS-serviced Components”).

When the statement emphasizes the exclusion of a particular Component.

1.1. APPLICABILITY. This issuance:

- a. Applies to OSD, the Office of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Joint Staff, and the Military Departments that are serviced by Washington Headquarters Services (WHS) (referred to collectively in this AI as the “WHS-serviced Components”).
- b. Does not apply to the Defense Agencies or the DoD Field Activities.

When the statement emphasizes the exclusion of an individual (or organization) not included in the basic statement:

1.1. APPLICABILITY. This issuance:

- a. Applies to OSD, the Defense Agencies, and the DoD Field Activities that are serviced by Washington Headquarters Services (WHS) (referred to collectively in this AI as the “WHS-serviced Components”).
- b. Does not apply to the Military Departments, the Office of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff or the Joint Staff, or the U.S. Representative to the NATO Military Committee.

When the AI does not apply under certain circumstances:

1.1. APPLICABILITY. This issuance:

- a. [standard AI applicability statement identifying appropriate agencies].
- b. Does not apply to property and materiel for which accountability and inventory control requirements are prescribed in DoD Manuals 4140.01 and 4000.25.

POLICY

5.3. General.

State briefly but precisely the activity governed by the issuance, its requirements, and the reason for them. Think of the policy statement as the “why” of your issuance. Why is it necessary to assign these responsibilities, develop these procedures, etc.? See sample policy statements in Figure 21, Figure 22, and Figure 23.

5.4. Length.

Try to limit policy to half a page, but no longer than one page. Don’t include responsibilities or procedures. A common result of an imprecise policy section is the improper embedding of responsibilities. As a result, critical responsibilities are not clearly assigned, which can lead to failure to perform them.

5.5. Policy in DoDDs and DoDIs.

Required. DoDDs (not including charters) and DoDIs establish policy. The policy section of a DoDD or DoDI states the principles or goals of a DoD mission and defines performance standards and other means by which the DoD Components can evaluate their success in implementing the policy.

Policy statements should be as concise as possible; however, they must be written in sufficient detail to ensure the policies are clearly articulated.

5.6. DoDM-specific Policy.

Optional. DoDMs can't establish policy. This section can only be used to briefly describe policy being implemented and must cite the DoDDs, DoDIs, or law that established the policy. If used, it should be no more than one or two paragraphs long. This is the only place in the DoDM where policy may be stated. For multi-volume DoDMs, the policy section may also contain a volume-specific statement.

5.7. AI-specific Policy.

Required. AIs implement DoD policy established in DoDDs or DoDIs for the administration of the DoD Components that are serviced by WHS. Summarize the DoD policy the AI implements and cite the DoDDs or DoDIs that established the policy.

AIs can't establish DoD-wide policy, but they can establish OSD policy for the WHS-serviced Components in order to implement DoD policy established in DoDDs or DoDIs.

1.2. POLICY. The DoD supports:

a. U.S. Government policy to minimize the pain and suffering caused by HIV/AIDS and the devastating impact on families, as well as the threat of global destabilization due to HIV/AIDS. In this example, the acronym "HIV/AIDS" was established earlier in the issuance.

b. U.S. Military HIV Research Program efforts to prevent the spread of HIV/AIDS in U.S. military forces, primarily through the development of a vaccine.

For issuances that implement policy, keep the section to one or two paragraphs. Summarize the policy and cite the issuance or issuances that establish it.

When the statement summarizes the policy in one policy issuance:

1.2. POLICY. In accordance with [issuance establishing policy], the DoD Components conducting or participating in operations in the Antarctic area must observe the terms of the Antarctic Treaty.

When the statement summarizes the policy in more than one issuance:

1.2. POLICY. In accordance with [issuance establishing the policy], the DoD has a single source of standards of ethical conduct and ethics guidance. These standards include direction in the areas of financial and employment disclosure systems, post-employment rules, enforcement, and training pursuant to [different issuance establishing the policy].

Service members in the Standby Reserve are liable for active duty pursuant to Sections 12301 and 12306 of Title 10, United States Code, and will be managed pursuant to criteria prescribed in this issuance in accordance with Sections 10150, 10151, 10152, 10153, and 12735 of Title 10, United States Code.

INFORMATION COLLECTIONS

5.8. General.

This paragraph is required if there are information collections in the issuance. The standard information collections paragraph text is included in the template, as shown in Figure 24. If you don't have an information collection, remove the entire paragraph.

1.3. INFORMATION COLLECTIONS. [Enter the formal information collection title], referred to in Paragraph [enter the appropriate paragraph citation(s) where the information collection is described or referred to in the issuance], has been assigned report control symbol [enter report control symbol] in accordance with the procedures in Volume 1 of DoD Manual 8910.01.
--

5.9. Purpose.

The information collection requirements section identifies information collections described in the issuance and verifies that the collection has been approved and licensed. Use this section to identify forms, reports, record-keeping systems, or other requirements for collecting information from or furnishing information to other DoD and OSD Components and non-DoD Federal agencies. Don't use this section to establish policy, procedures, or responsibilities related to the collection of information.

5.10. Resources.

For general guidance or a list of program authority documents, visit the Office of Information Management page on the WHS/DD Website at <https://www.esd.whs.mil/Directives/collections>.

ADDITIONAL PARAGRAPHS

5.11. Additional Paragraphs.

You may add other paragraphs to this section as long as the information is broad in scope and isn't procedural. For example, if the issuance has vital deadline requirements (e.g., "The Military Departments must develop and publish internal guidance in support of these procedures within 6 months of this issuance's effective date."), you may add an appropriate paragraph, "1.4. Implementation Requirements." These additional paragraphs should come before the Summary of Changes (if applicable; see Section 9).

SECTION 6: RESPONSIBILITY SECTION GUIDANCE

OVERVIEW

6.1. Requirements.

Responsibilities are required and are always in Section 2 of an issuance. Identify the key OSD and DoD Component heads who will carry out the policy and procedures in the issuance and list the overarching duties and obligations of each. Always assign responsibilities to officials, not to their offices or organizations. For multi-volume issuances, the responsibilities must be volume-specific.

6.2. Content.

Be specific but succinct, and use the present tense and active voice. Don't include procedures. State what the officials are responsible for doing, not how they should do it. Ask yourself, "will the individuals actually be doing this themselves?" If the answer is no, the text should be moved to a procedural section and tasked to the organization. The individual (e.g., the Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness) will be responsible for making sure those procedures are implemented. For examples of responsibilities, see Figure 26.

6.3. Leadership Level.

Don't assign responsibilities below the Deputy Assistant Secretary of Defense or Defense Agency or DoD Field Activity Director level. Issuances shouldn't assign responsibilities that will unnecessarily hamper the OSD and DoD Component heads in their efforts to efficiently manage their Component. While specific designation of responsibilities may clarify program management, the more general the assignment, the greater flexibility the Component(s) will have in implementation.

6.4. Duplicate Responsibilities.

If you assign the same responsibilities to more than one official, combine them into one paragraph to avoid unnecessary repetition in your issuance. For example, "The Secretaries of the Military Departments and the Director, Defense Logistics Agency: [followed by the joint responsibilities]"

6.5. Order of Officials Assigned Responsibilities.

List the officials you're assigning responsibilities to, as shown in Figure 25.

1. The originating OSD Component head. Do not assign responsibilities to the Deputy of the Component: that individual has the same non-statutory authorities as the Component head and can carry out their responsibilities.
2. Other key officials within the originating OSD Component according to their levels.
3. Other key officials within the DoD in this order:
 - a. Chief Management Officer of the Department of Defense.
 - b. The OSD Component heads, individually.
 - (1) Under each, list any Assistant Secretaries, Deputy Assistant Secretaries, or Defense Agency or DoD Field Activity Directors assigned responsibilities who are under the authority, direction, and control of the individual OSD Component head.
 - (2) Nest subordinate offices together by organizational structure. See Figure 27 for examples.
 - c. Individual Defense Agency or DoD Field Activity Directors whose OSD Component authority isn't assigned any responsibilities.
 - d. The Directors of the Defense Agencies and DoD Field Activities, collectively.
 - e. The DoD Component heads, collectively.
 - f. The OSD Component heads, collectively.
 - g. The Secretaries of the Military Departments, collectively.
 - h. Individual Secretaries of the Military Departments.
 - i. The Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.
 - j. The Combatant Commanders, collectively.
 - k. Individual Combatant Commanders.
 - l. The Executive Secretary of the Department of Defense.

6.6. Cross-referencing Responsibilities.

If you assign responsibilities that affect officials in multiple paragraphs, you must cross-reference them. For example, if you assign responsibilities to both the USD(P) and the OSD Component heads, add the following language to the USD(P)'s paragraph: "In addition to the responsibilities in [Paragraph # (the paragraph assigning collective OSD Component head responsibilities)], the USD(P)..." This rule also applies to DoD Component heads, Directors of Defense Agencies and DoD Field Activities, Secretaries of the Military Departments, and Combatant Commanders. For help determining the individual DoD and OSD Component heads, go to DoD and OSD Component Heads on the Website.

6.7. Subordinate Officials.

When assigning responsibilities to officials at any level subordinate to the OSD Component heads, you must use this language to make it clear which position has authority over them. That is, "Under the authority, direction, and control of the [OSD Component head], the [subordinate agency head]..."

6.8. Chain of Command.

To establish a chain of command, you must use the term "through." That is, "Under the authority, direction, and control of the [OSD Component head], through the [parent agency head], the [subordinate agency head]..."

6.9. Combatant Commanders and the Joint Staff.

When tasking Combatant Commanders to take action outside of the Joint Staff or their Combatant Commands (e.g., reporting to the Deputy Secretary of Defense or OSD Component heads), use this language as applicable: "...through the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff..." This language can only be used in the opening statement if all responsibilities being assigned are taking place outside of the Joint Staff or Combatant Command.

SECTION 7: GLOSSARY

OVERVIEW

7.1. Requirements.

A glossary is mandatory for all issuances over two pages that define terms and/or establish acronyms. It is always the second to last section in an issuance, followed only by the Reference section. It is broken up into two parts, “G1. Acronyms” and “G2. Definitions.” An acronym list must include all acronyms used in the issuance except “DoD,” “OSD,” and “U.S.,” as well as acronyms that only appear in the titles of issuances in the front matter or Reference section of the issuance.

7.2. Single-part Glossary.

If you define terms but don’t use any acronyms (or vice versa), delete the part you don’t need from the template. Remove “G.1.” or “G.2.” and the paragraph title, so the Glossary is only listed as “Glossary” followed by the acronym or definition terms, as appropriate.

ACRONYM USE

7.3. Articles before Abbreviations.

Use of the articles “the,” “a,” and “an” before abbreviations and acronyms will be determined by basic rules of grammar. The use of “a” and “an” depends on the sound of the acronym that follows, not on the first letter. For example, the vowel sound at the beginning of the acronym “MP” (pronounced “em-pea”) requires that “an” be used. However, “a” is used before “MOOTW,” since the acronym is pronounced “moo-twah.”

7.4. Correct Usage.

Use the approved abbreviations and acronyms in Table 3 and the DoD Dictionary of Military and Associated Terms.

7.5. Acronym Establishment.

Write terms out the first time they appear in the body of the issuance and place the abbreviation or acronym in parenthesis following it. Use the acronym consistently thereafter: don’t repeat the term. Don’t establish acronyms in the title of the issuance itself.

7.6. Number of Times Used.

In accordance with the Plain Writing Act of 2010, a term must be used a minimum of three times in an issuance in order for its acronym to be used (this doesn't include items in the TOC, References, or front matter). The acronym will be established on the first use of the term and used consistently from then on. There are two exceptions:

If the acronym is more well-known than the term itself (e.g., TRICARE, NISPOM), simply use the acronym in the text and define it in G1.

For multi-Service publications cited, the Service document acronym is used (e.g., DLAI 4140.55/AR 735-11-2/SECNAVINST 4355.18A/AFJMAN 23-215) in the text and the acronyms (e.g., "DLAI," "AR," "SECNAVINST," and "AFJMAN") are defined in G1.

7.7. TOC.

In accordance with Paragraph 2.10., acronyms are not established in the TOC; they only appear to be if the acronym is being established in the paragraph header the TOC is pulling from.

7.8. Acronyms in the Definitions Section.

Use acronyms already established; don't write the term out or reestablish the acronym. Acronyms are ordered alphabetically in the definitions section by the acronym, not the term as it would be spelled out.

If a term that is also known as an acronym is only used in the Glossary, we recommend not using the acronym at all.

ACRONYM LIST

7.9. Order.

List acronyms alphabetically; don't number them. For military terms, use the approved joint abbreviations and acronyms in the DoD Dictionary of Military and Associated Terms.

7.10. Formatting.

The list must be in a borderless table and each entry must be in its own cell; this table is included in the DoD issuance template. Add a hard return at the end of each acronym that appears last in that letter group (e.g., if you have the acronyms U.S.C., USD(P), and USD(P&R), place a hard return after USD(P&R)). A sample acronym list is in Table 7.

7.11. Capitalization.

Use title case only when the term is a proper noun. Use lowercase when the term isn't a proper noun. Examples of other frequently used common nouns that shouldn't be capitalized are: action officer, active duty, area of responsibility, peace operations, point of contact, and memorandum of agreement (unless referring to a specific memorandum). See Table 3 for a more comprehensive list of preferred capitalization for specific terms.

Table 5. Sample Acronym List

ACRONYM	MEANING
AI	administrative instruction
CFR	Code of Federal Regulations
DoDD	DoD directive
DoDI	DoD instruction
DoDM	DoD manual
DTM	directive-type memorandum
EA	Executive Agent
E.O.	Executive order
JP	joint publication
MS	Microsoft
TOC	table of contents
U.S.C.	United States Code

DEFINITIONS

7.12. Guidelines.

Terms in the Glossary should be those that are particular to the DoD issuance itself or are not accurately defined in a standard dictionary for your purposes. Only include terms in the Definitions section if they are used in the issuance. A sample is in Table 6.

Table 6. Sample Terms and Definitions

TERM	DEFINITION
adulterated	When reported as part of specimen validity testing, a urine specimen to which a substance has been added to alter the normal physiological composition of urine. This determination is based on measurement of a non-physiological pH and/or the presence of substances that are not normal constituents of urine or substances that are normal constituents of urine but are at non-physiologically-relevant concentrations.
aliquot	A portion of a specimen used in drug analysis.
analyte	A drug or drug metabolite for which a specimen or sample is being analyzed or tested.
approved bottles	National Stock Number 6640-01-681-3575.
autotune	An adjustment of MS conditions that ensures the ability of the MS to accurately measure ion mass resolution.

7.13. Definition Classifications.

Definitions must be described as one of the following: for the purpose of this issuance; defined in another DoD publication; or proposed for inclusion in the next edition of the DoD Dictionary of Military and Associated Terms. Repetition of these statements in the Glossary can be avoided by using the general caveats in Figure 28 immediately after the paragraph heading.

G.2. DEFINITIONS. Unless otherwise noted, these terms and their definitions are for the purpose of this issuance. G.2. DEFINITIONS. These terms and their definitions are for the purpose of this issuance.

7.14. Spacing.

If only the paragraph title would remain on the same page, you may start the definitions on the next page. Add a hard return at the end of each definition.

7.15. Order.

List the terms being defined alphabetically; don't number them or use bullets. If a definition requires subparagraphs, leave one blank line between them and indent the first line of the subparagraph to .25".

7.16. Capitalization.

Capitalize definitions only if they are proper nouns. If an acronym has been established for a term, use the acronym; don't write the term out.

7.17. Citing Definitions from Other Sources.

If your definition must always match the term as defined somewhere else (e.g., the DoD Dictionary of Military and Associated Terms), other DoD issuances, or other government publications (e.g., Executive orders, Public Law, the Code of Federal Regulations, the United States Code)), to avoid inconsistency, don't repeat the definition. Instead, cite the issuance or publication in which the term is defined as a reference in place of the definition, e.g., "DoD EA. Defined in the DoD Dictionary of Military and Associated Terms."

7.18. DoD Dictionary Terms.

If you believe a definition should be added to the DoD Dictionary of Military and Associated Terms (see DoDI 5025.12 for the establishing criteria for terms with DoD-wide applicability), place this statement at the end of the definition: "This term and its definition are proposed for inclusion in the next edition of the DoD Dictionary of Military and Associated Terms." The DD 106 prepared for formal coordination must include the statement that a term has been nominated for inclusion in the DoD Dictionary and the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff must be listed as a primary coordinator.

SECTION 8: REFERENCES AND CITATIONS

REFERENCE SECTION

8.1. Requirements.

A Reference section is mandatory for all issuances that refer to other documents or sources, and will only include those documents or sources referred to in the issuance. The Reference section is always the last section of the issuance and is included in the template. Don't include references if you don't cite them in the issuance. The Reference section is a works cited list, not a bibliography.

8.2. Formatting.

Use the spacing and alignment provided in the template (i.e., the "13_References" Style). With some exceptions (including legal citations), organize Reference section citations alphanumerically by the type of issuance or originating office, the exact title, in quotation marks, and the publication date. Don't put a period at the end of your citation. The month and day of the publication date must be on the same line; if they get separated, use a soft return (Shift+Enter) to move the month to the next line with the rest of the date. See Figure 29 for a sample Reference section.

8.3. Availability Statements.

If a reference can't be found on a government website or with a simple internet search, add an availability statement explaining where the reference can be accessed (e.g., URL, office contact info), in the form of a footnote. Don't use such footnotes for Secretary and Deputy Secretary of Defense memoranda. To enter footnotes for availability statements, go to the MS Word "References" tab, go to the Footnotes group, and select "Insert Footnote."

If multiple references can be found in the same place (e.g., two references can be found at the URL in Footnote 1), use superscript numbering for subsequent citations.

8.4. Grouped References.

If you need to cite more than 10 references at once in the issuance text, group them in the Reference section, identify them with a specific tag, and use the tag consistently throughout the issuance.

For example, the in-text citation would read, "Implements the policy identified in the "EEO Authority" references by establishing..." ("EEO Authority" in this case is the tag). Identify EEO Authority as a section in the Reference section, followed by all references in that group in alphanumeric order. Next, bring all remaining references together as a group called "Other References," and list them in alphanumeric order. See Figure 30 for an example; for the purposes of this example, fewer than 10 references are included.

Executive Order 11141, “Declaring a Public Policy Against Discrimination on the Basis of Age,” February 12, 1964

The following are referred to in this directive collectively as “OPM guidance”:
Code of Federal Regulations, Title 5, Section 720 (“Federal Equal Opportunity Recruitment Program”)
Federal Personnel Manual, Chapter 306, “Selective Placement Programs,” February 26, 1982
Federal Personnel Manual, Chapter 713, “Equal Employment Opportunity,” December 21, 1976

8.5. Cancelled References.

Don’t list documents being reissued, incorporated, or cancelled by your issuance in the Reference section (i.e., don’t include those publications listed the front matter).

8.6. Forms.

Don’t cite forms in the Reference section. See “forms” in Table 3. Preferred Usage and Capitalization in DoD Issuances for guidance on citing forms.

8.7. Unpublished References.

Avoid citing unpublished material such as drafts and documents not available to readers. If you must cite draft material, your issuance cannot be published until that reference has been published as well. During the review process, you may cite unpublished references as “DoD [1234.XX],” [insert issuance title here],” (draft), date TBD.”

8.8. Amended References.

When citing a document that has been changed or updated, use the original publication date and indicate “as amended” after the date. Citations of Public Laws and Executive orders that may be amended by subsequent laws should include the original publication date and note that it has been amended. For example, “Executive Order 13178, “Northwestern Hawaiian Islands Coral Reef Ecosystem Reserve,” December 4, 2000, as amended”; in this case, the Executive order was amended by Executive Order 13196 in 2001. Don’t cite which document has amended the Public Law or Executive order in the issuance, as this information is easily found online.

8.9. Current Editions.

Documents that are maintained online, frequently updated, and have multiple or undefined publication dates must use the citation “current edition” in place of the publication date in the Reference section, e.g., “Defense Federal Acquisition Regulation Supplement, current edition.”

8.10. Acronyms.

Don’t establish or use acronyms in the Reference section unless they are part of the reference title. Joint Service publications may use the acronym title string (e.g., DLAI 4140.55/AR 735-11-2/SECNAVINST 4355.18A/AFJMAN 23-215), but the acronyms used (in this example, “DLAI,” “AR,” “SECNAVINST,” and “AFJMAN”) must be included in the Glossary.

8.11. Multi-volume References.

Cite each volume(s) referenced in the issuance individually in the Reference section (e.g., if you cite Volumes 2000 and 2003 of DoD Instruction 1400.25, they will both be included in the Reference section, rather than simply listing DoD Instruction 1400.25). Only reference the complete publication if you’re referring to the document as a whole.

8.12. Legal Citations.

If you cite a single section of a law, then you may include it in the Reference section (e.g., United States Code, Title 10, Section 123). If you refer to more than one section or part of a law, only cite the title (e.g., use “United States Code, Title 10” not “United States Code, Title 10, Sections 234, 123, 456, and 7891.”)

8.13. Laws with Common Names.

If a codified law is better known by a common name that you establish in the issuance, include it in the Reference section, e.g., “United States Code, Title 50 Appendix, Section 2170 (also known as the “Defense Production Act of 1950,” as amended).” If you have more than one law with a common name within a single title, cite the title only. For example, the Adult Education Act and the American Folklife Preservation Act are both in Title 20, U.S.C.; the Reference section citation would be “United States Code, Title 20” instead of citing both common names. See also Paragraph 8.22 for in-text citations of laws with common names.

IN-TEXT CITATIONS

8.14. Relating References to Content.

Always explain the relationship between the reference you cite and the text in your issuance. Go to Table 3 for the correct use of the terms “pursuant to,” “in accordance with,” and “under.” General Counsel will check the use of these terms during their review. Examples:

“Munitions will be distributed in accordance with DoD Instruction 1234.56.”

“The Military Services will provide appropriate training pursuant to Section 123 of Title 10, United States Code.”

“The Assistant Secretary of Defense for Homeland Defense and Global Security will serve as the Domestic Crisis Manager among other defense-wide crisis management responsibilities assigned in DoD Directive 3020.44.”

8.15. Specificity.

Be as specific as possible with reference citations so your reader knows where to find the information you’re citing. For example, the United States Code is a huge body of work; cite sections or chapters, such as, “...in accordance with Section 123a of Title 2, United States Code” instead of “...in accordance with Title 2, United States Code.” For other types of references, use clear language to show what content you’re citing (e.g., “...in accordance with Enclosure 1, Paragraph 1.b.(2) of DoD Instruction 1234.56.”).

8.16. Citing Multiple Documents.

List citations by type, if applicable. For example, instead of “...in accordance with DoDI 1234.45, DoDD 3456.78, DoDI 3456.55, Section 34 of Title 5, CFR, and DoDI 3456.78,” write “...in accordance with DoDIs 1234.45, 3456.55, and 3456.78; DoDD 4567.89; and Section 34 of Title 5, CFR.”

8.17. Citing Multi-volume Issuances.

If you refer to a different volume within your overall DoDI, DoDM, or AI, use this language: “...Volume [#] of this [instruction/manual/administrative instruction].” Cite the volume in the Reference section based on the format in Paragraph 7.12.

8.18. Military Department and Joint Service Publications.

Only cite a Military Department or joint Service publication in a DoD issuance when it is the only document that establishes or implements a crucial policy.

8.19. Citing Issuances vs. Laws.

If a DoD issuance has implemented an Executive order, Public Law, or section of the U.S.C., cite the DoD issuance, not the order, law, or code.

8.20. Citing U.S.C. vs. Public Law.

If a Public Law has been codified in the U.S.C., cite the title and section of the U.S.C., not the Public Law. If a Public Law has not been codified in the U.S.C., cite the Public Law and applicable section. Verify the proper statutory authority with the Office of the General Counsel of the Department of Defense when drafting the issuance.

8.21. Citing the Federal Register vs. CFR.

Cite the Federal Register for documents that have been published in the Federal Register but not in the CFR.

8.22. Laws with Common Names.

If a codified law is better known by a common name, you may cite it in the issuance text like so: “...pursuant to Section 2170 of Title 50, United States Code Appendix, also known and referred to in this issuance as the “Defense Production Act of 1950,” as amended.”). If you choose to establish the common name, always use that name in subsequent in-text citations. For example, “the Defense Production Act of 1950.” If there are no additional in-text citations, you would omit “and referred to in this issuance” from the citation statement.

SECTION 9: DTM STANDARDS

9.1. Using DTMs.

DTMs are issued only for time-sensitive actions (see DoDI 5025.01 for a definition) that affect current issuances or that will become DoD issuances and only when time constraints prevent publishing a new issuance or a change to an existing issuance. DTMs can't be used to permanently change or supplement existing issuances.

9.2. Template.

Always start with the latest version of the DTM template, available on the Website and use the preset Styles to format the DTM. Use the Styles provided in the template's Style palette.

9.3. Length.

Keep the main DTM (above the signature) text to two or three pages if possible. Create attachments as appropriate. See Paragraphs 11.13., 11.15., 11.18., and 11.20. for more information about attachments.

FRONT MATTER GUIDANCE

9.4. Letterhead.

Use your OSD Component head's letterhead or the Secretary of Defense's letterhead if they or the Deputy Secretary will be signing the DTM.

9.5. Distribution List.

Always use the distribution list provided in the template. As shown in Figure 31, "Memorandum for..." goes below the issuance date and above the subject line on page one of the DTM. "Senior Pentagon Leadership (See Distribution)" and "Defense Agency and DoD Field Activity Directors" must be included in the list on the first page, along with any other recipient that is not senior Pentagon leadership.

The distribution list, as shown in Figure 32, goes below the signature block or attachment notation if applicable. Don't delete any of these addressees. You may add additional senior Pentagon leadership as necessary, but be sure to list position titles, not offices or individual's names.

9.6. Subject Line.

Enter the subject in title case. Don't use the same title in more than one DTM. Don't exceed two lines. WHS/DD enters the temporary DTM number during precoordination review and the permanent number and effective date when preparing the DTM for publication.

9.7. References.

If you have six or fewer references, list them on page one in the designated area using block-style formatting (see Figure 35 for an example). If you have more than six references, use the following language in the References line: “See Attachment 1” or “See Attachment” if you only have one attachment, and move the references to that attachment. See Figure 36 for an example of formatting references in an attachment. Go to Section 8 for detailed guidance on reference use and citation, including formatting legal citations. For footnote use, see Paragraph 8.3.

9.8. Reference Citation.

For DTMs signed by the Secretary or Deputy Secretary, cite only DoD issuances or memorandums this DTM amends, cancels, or refers to.

For DTMs signed at other levels, you must cite the DoD directive charter of the individual signing. Other references may be cited, but the number should be kept to the minimum. Only cite documents that have a direct bearing on the DTM.

9.9. Bullets.

If you use bullets in the front matter, you must have at least two bullets or sub-bullets for each section. Otherwise, use the standard paragraph formatting provided in the template.

9.10. Purpose.

This paragraph is required. In the first bullet of the purpose statement, explain the reason for publishing the DTM, including how it meets the definition of DTM as established in DoDI 5025.01. Policy is either established (created) or implemented (carried out); be very clear which is the case and don't use verbs such as "sets forth," "updates," "describes," etc., when discussing policy. Identify and reference any DoD issuances it amends or cancels.

9.11. Future of the DTM.

In the second bullet of the purpose statement, select one of the following two statements from the dropdown menu:

"This DTM is effective [DD will insert publication date before publishing]; it will be converted to a new DoD [directive, instruction, or manual]. This DTM will expire effective [12 months from the date issuance is published on the DoD Issuances Website, inserted by the Directives Division]."

"This DTM is effective [DD will insert date before publishing]; it will be incorporated into [type and number of issuance being changed]. This DTM will expire effective [12 months from the date issuance is published on the DoD Issuances Website, inserted by the Directives Division]."

9.12. Applicability.

This paragraph is required. Use the appropriate applicability following the guidance and figures in Section 5.

9.13. Definitions.

This paragraph is optional. Place terms in alphabetical order. If this paragraph is longer than half a page or requires an acronym list, move all terms to Glossary at end of the DTM; in that case, the Definitions line will read: "See Glossary." See Section 8 for guidance on using glossaries and see Figure 37 for a sample DTM Glossary.

If the Glossary has only one part, then "Part #" will not be used

GLOSSARY

PART I. ABBREVIATIONS AND ACRONYMS

A listing of acronyms is mandatory for issuances over 2 pages using acronyms other than "DoD," "OSD," or "U.S."

ACRONYM	MEANING
AI	administrative instruction use lower case when term is a common noun
CFR	Code of Federal Regulations Use Title Case When Term is a Proper Noun Leave a space (hard return) between acronyms beginning with a different letter.

BEGINS WITH "S"

PART II. DEFINITIONS
Unless otherwise noted, these terms and their definitions are for the purpose of this issuance. [Remove "unless otherwise noted" if not applicable. Delete this text.]
TERM	DEFINITION
TERMS	Use the table in this template to alphabetically list terms used in the issuance with a row for each identified term. Add more rows as necessary.
term	Use lower case when term is a common noun. Capitalize proper nouns.
ACRONYM	For terms that are acronyms you've already established, do not write term out or reestablish acronym. Acronyms are ordered alphabetically in the definitions section by the acronym, not the term as it would be spelled out. Use a hard return in the cell of each definition to separate it from the next term.

9.14. Policy.

This paragraph is recommended but not required. State briefly but precisely the activity governed by the DTM, the requirements it establishes, and the reason for them. For DTMs that establish policy, the section may need to be longer than in DoDDs or DoDIs to ensure new policies are clearly articulated. See Section 5 for more guidance on writing policy.

9.15. Responsibilities.

This paragraph is required. Identify the key officials who will implement the DTM and list the overarching duties and obligations of each. If responsibilities are longer than half a page, place them in an attachment and write "See Attachment [#]" in the paragraph. See Section 6 for more guidance on writing responsibilities.

9.16. Responsibilities in DTMs Signed by the Secretary or Deputy Secretary of Defense.

Only assign responsibilities, as applicable, to the Under Secretaries and the Assistants to the Secretary of Defense, other DoD Component heads, and the Directors of the Defense Agencies and DoD Field Activities.

9.17. Responsibilities in DTMs Signed by All Other Officials.

Assign responsibilities, as applicable, to the Deputy Under Secretaries and Deputy Assistant Secretaries of Defense, the Directors of the Defense Agencies and DoD Field Activities and, when authorized by a DoDD, to other DoD Component heads. The authorizing DoDD must be cited when responsibilities are assigned to other DoD Components heads.

9.18. Procedures.

This paragraph is recommended but not required. Provide the sequence of actions to be taken or instructions to be followed to accomplish the DTM's purpose. If longer than half a page, place in an attachment and write "See Attachment [#]" in the paragraph.

9.19. Information Collection Requirements.

This paragraph is required if it applies to the DTM. See Section 5 for more guidance on information collections.

9.20. Other Paragraphs.

Most material in DTMs can be structured using the required, optional, and recommended paragraphs discussed in this section. Use them in the order discussed. If other paragraphs are needed, place them immediately above the releasability paragraph, which will be the last paragraph before the signature block. Organize the paragraphs to present the most important information first, followed by supporting detail. Always use paragraph headings. If any additional paragraph exceeds half a page, place the material in an attachment or attachments.

9.21. Tables and Figures.

Don't put tables or figures in the front matter of the DTM. Place tables and figures in an attachment or attachments. Number the tables and figures in the order to which they are referred (e.g., Table 1, Table 2, Figure 1, Table 3, Figure 2).

9.22. Releasability.

This paragraph is required and must always be the last paragraph before the signature block. In the DTM template, pick one of the following options for releasability of the DTM from the dropdown menu. For guidance on determining releasability, go to DoDD 5230.9, DoDI 5230.29, and SECDEF MESSAGE: INFORMATION SECURITY/WEBSITE ALERT.

“Cleared for public release. This DTM is available on the Directives Division Website at <https://www.esd.whs.mil/DD/>.”

“Not cleared for public release. This DTM is available to users with Common Access Card authorization on the Directives Division Website at <https://www.esd.whs.mil/DD/>.” (As a rule this option is used for issuances containing Controlled Unclassified Information (CUI).)

“Not cleared for public release. This DTM is available to authorized users on the SIPRNET at <https://directives.whs.esd.smil.mil/>.”

“Not cleared for public release. The release and distribution of this DTM will be approved only by [enter originating OSD Component and contact information].”

9.23. Signature Block.

Leave six blank lines between the releasability statement and the signature block. If the Secretary or Deputy Secretary is signing the DTM, don't include a signature block. If an OSD Component head is signing the issuance, include their title.

9.24. Signature Authority.

DTMs establishing policy must be signed by the originating OSD Component head; the Secretary or Deputy Secretary will sign DTMs on subjects requiring their direct oversight. DTMs implementing policy may be signed by the OSD Component head, the Deputy USD, or an OSD Presidentially Appointed, Senate-confirmed (PAS) official. See the List of Signature Authorities on the Website for more information.

9.25. Attachments.

Between the signature block and the Attachments line, include one blank line. After the “Attachments:” line, include the language “As stated.”

ATTACHMENT GUIDANCE

9.26. When to Use.

Use an attachment or attachments if there is a table or figure; there are more than six references; or a paragraph in the DTM is longer than half a page. Exception: The policy paragraph will always be in the front matter above the signature block, regardless of length.

9.27. Attachment Order and Numbering.

Refer to attachments in the front matter of the DTM above the signature block. Number them in the order they appear in the text. Use Arabic numerals to identify attachments. If you have only one attachment, don't number it.

9.28. Referring to Attachments.

Capitalize the word "Attachment" when referring to a specific attachment; if self-referencing the attachment, say "...this attachment."

9.29. Attachment Footers.

If you don't need a preset attachment provided in the template, delete the applicable MS Word section and adjust the subsequent footer(s) as necessary. If you insert additional MS Word sections for attachments, carry the header forward and adjust the text in the footer to read: "Attachment [applicable #]." Unlink the footer from the previous section when adding new sections.

9.30. Formatting Attachments.

Use the template Styles to format attachments, as shown in Figure 38, Figure 39, and Figure 40.

1. SECTION TITLE. When you have no paragraphs in a section or when you wish to place explanatory material before the subsequent paragraphs, place a period after the section title and begin the text on the same line.

2. SECTION TITLE. When no text follows a title or heading, don't place a period at the end of the title/heading. See Paragraph 2.a.(1)(c) in this figure for an example.

a. Paragraph Heading. To have a paragraph "a.," you must have a paragraph "b." To have a paragraph "(1)," you must have a paragraph "(2)." If one paragraph has a heading, all paragraphs on the same level must have a heading.

(1) Use Style "07_(1) Text" to format text at this level. Don't use the AutoFormat function in MS Word. (To turn this function off in MS Word 2013, go to Using the Issuance Template's MS Word Features on the Website)

(a) Paragraph Heading. Use Style "09_(a) Text" to format text at this level.

(b) Paragraph Heading.

1. Paragraph Heading. Use the "10_Underline" style to format text at this level. Avoid using paragraph headings at this level, if possible. You will have to add the underline manually.

a. Use the "11_Underline" style to format text at this level. This is the fifth level. Do NOT create paragraphs below this level. Avoid using paragraph headings at this level, if possible. You will have to add the underline manually.

b. If you have material subordinate to this level, reorganize the material at a higher level.

2. Paragraph Heading

(c) Paragraph Heading

(2) Because Paragraph 2.a.(1) has no heading, this paragraph has none.

b. Paragraph Heading. Because Paragraph 1.a. has a heading, this paragraph must have one.

SECTION 10: ISSUANCE CHANGE STANDARDS

CHANGE TYPES AND REQUIREMENTS

10.1. Requirements.

A change amends no more than 25 percent of an existing DoD issuance and has the full authority of the issuance. If more than 25 percent of an issuance requires change, the entire issuance must be revised, coordinated, and reissued with a new date. A changed issuance keeps its original publication date and signature or approval authority. There are two types of change actions: administrative and substantive. For information on processing changes to DoD issuances, see Processing DoD Issuances and Processing OCMO Issuances on the Website.

10.2. Administrative Changes.

Change only non-substantive portions of an issuance, such as reference titles and publication dates or organizational names and symbols. Administrative changes don't get coordinated with the DoD and OSD Components; they are reviewed by WHS/DD, approved by the OSD Component concerned, and published to the Website.

10.3. Substantive Changes.

Change an essential section of an issuance, such as purpose, applicability, policy, responsibilities, procedures, information requirements, or releasability, and impacts the DoD Components involved. Substantive changes go through the whole DoD Issuance Process.

CHANGE FORMATTING

10.4. Font and Style.

During processing (DD Stages 1 – 5A), changes will be visible in red text so that reviewers and the issuance approval authority can quickly see and comment on what's changing. Don't use MS Word's Track Changes function to make your changes. For issuances published before 2015, use MS Word's font features to make your changes; for issuances in the current standards, use the change text Styles in the template. Use ~~red strikethrough~~ for proposed deleted text and red italics for proposed new text.

After the change is approved (Stage 5B), WHS/DD will remove the strikethrough text and convert the new text to black non-italics.

10.5. Text Placement.

Always show deleted text first, placing new text after the deleted text, if applicable (e.g., ~~deleted text~~ followed by new text). Use the guidance in Table 9 to make your revisions clear.

Table 9. Making Changes Clear

10.6. Cover Page Change Information.

For issuances published before 2015, add a line after the original publication date that says: “Incorporating Change [#], Effective Month Day, Year”. For issuances published in 2015 or later, add the following language after the original effective date: “Change [#] Effective” and don't fill in the date. The number should reflect the most recent change number. WHS/DD provides the change date before publishing the issuance to the Website.

10.7. Footers for Issuances Published Before 2015.

Starting on page 2, add the following to the bottom left footer: “Change [#], mm/dd/yyyy”. WHS/DD will add the change date before publishing the issuance to the Website. Leave the headers alone.

10.8. Headers for Issuances Published 2015 or Later.

Add “Change [#] Effective: Month Day, Year” below the effective date in the front matter as seen in Figure 32. Don't update the original publication date.

WHS/DD will add the change date before publishing the issuance to the Website. Leave the footers alone.

SUMMARY OF CHANGES PARAGRAPH

10.9. Summary of Changes Formatting.

A summary of changes paragraph must be included. The paragraph heading must be “SUMMARY OF CHANGE [#].” For issuances published before 2015, it should be the paragraph immediately before the Effective Date paragraph. In issuances published in 2015 or later, the paragraph must be the last paragraph in Section 1 (usually Paragraph 1.3. or 1.4.).

10.10. Summary of Changes Content.

This won't be a listing of every change, but a summary of the intent or result of the change. Describe briefly what changes were made and what prompted the change (e.g., new Secretary of Defense direction or implementation of a Public Law.) For example:

“The changes to this issuance are administrative and update organizational titles and references for accuracy.”

“The changes to this issuance are a result of [what prompted the change?]. Responsibilities [of what organization/individual?] have been amended to include [how did they change?], and processes in [which part of the document?] have been [how have they changed?].”

10.11. Subsequent Changes.

The Summary of Change # paragraph will be updated upon each change; that is, only the most recent change will be summarized. Information regarding previous changes will be available in the WHS/DD archives and, ultimately, the National Archives and Records Administration.

10.12. Examples of Changes.

Standards for making changes to the DoD issuance template in use before May 1, 2015, are in Figure 31. Standards for making changes to the current DoD issuance template are in Figure 32.
