SUBJECT: Reserve Component (RC) Use of Electronic-based Distributed Learning Methods for Training

References: See Enclosure 1

1. PURPOSE. This instruction:
   a. Establishes policy, assigns responsibilities, and provides procedures for members of the Selected Reserve to use electronic-based distributed learning (DL) methods to conduct training away from scheduled unit training assemblies or apart from other collective training time in accordance with the authority in DoD Directive 5124.02 (Reference (a)). DoD Instruction 1322.26 (Reference (b)) outlines the policy for DL.
   b. Supports RC readiness by providing the Military Services greater flexibility within existing statutes and policies to leverage technology and available resources for training.
   c. Cancels previous guidance issued by Under Secretary of Defense for Personnel and Readiness (USD(P&R)) Memorandum (Reference (c)).

2. APPLICABILITY. This instruction applies to OSD, the Military Departments (including the Coast Guard at all times, including when it is a Service in the Department of Homeland Security by agreement with that Department), the Office of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Joint Staff, the Combatant Commands, the Office of the Inspector General of the Department of Defense, the Defense Agencies, the DoD Field Activities, and all other organizational entities within the DoD (referred to collectively in this instruction as the “DoD Components”).

3. POLICY. It is DoD policy that:
   a. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned may direct members of the Selected Reserve to accomplish training requirements related to unit readiness or mobilization.
   b. To increase available unit training assembly time for hands-on individual military occupational skill (MOS), military occupational code (MOC), and collective training opportunities for members of the RC, the Military Departments are directed to use DL methods to conduct individual training as applicable.

c. Electronic-based DL methodologies should be applied to the maximum extent possible to accomplish common military training requirements, subject to the limitations in section 206 of Title 37, United States Code (Reference (d)).

4. RESPONSIBILITIES. See Enclosure 2.

5. PROCEDURES. See Enclosure 3.

6. RELEASABILITY. Cleared for public release. This instruction is available on the Internet from the DoD Issuances Website at http://www.dtic.mil/whs/directives.

7. EFFECTIVE DATE. This instruction:

   b. Will expire effective October 10, 2024 if it is not reissued or cancelled by this date in accordance with DoD Instruction 5025.01 (Reference (e)).

RESPONSIBILITIES

1. ASSISTANT SECRETARY OF DEFENSE FOR RESERVE AFFAIRS (ASD(RA)). Under the authority, direction, and control of the USD(P&R), the ASD(RA):
   a. Oversees implementation of RC DL training methods across the seven Reserve Components as part of the Total Force.
   b. Assesses the compliance of Service policies, plans, and procedures on an annual basis, as they pertain to RC DL training methods to ensure operational and strategic RCs that are seamlessly integrated with the Total Force supporting national security at home and abroad.
   c. Develops additional procedures related to RC DL methods as required to support the seven Reserve Components as part of the Total Force.

2. DIRECTOR, DEFENSE FINANCE AND ACCOUNTING SERVICE (DFAS). Under the authority, direction, and control of the Under Secretary of Defense (Comptroller)/Chief Financial Officer, Department of Defense, the Director, DFAS, develops regulations in Volume 7A of DoD 7000.14-R (Reference (f)) regarding procedures for payment in accordance with section 206(d)(2) of Reference (d) and this instruction.

3. SECRETARIES OF THE MILITARY DEPARTMENTS AND COMMANDANT OF THE UNITED STATES COAST GUARD (USCG). The Secretaries of the Military Departments and Commandant of the USCG:
   a. Develop the policies, plans, and procedures necessary to ensure successful and accountable implementation of this instruction within their respective Component.
   b. Create, communicate, and annually update a list of DL training courses related to unit readiness or mobilization that are eligible for compensation under this instruction.
   c. Determine, communicate, and annually update, for each DL training course eligible for compensation under this instruction, as well as reasonable time for successful course completion.
   d. Develop procedures to determine successful completion of DL training courses.
   e. Ensure that plans and policies for the compensation of DL training courses for RC Service members are consistent with References (a), (b), (d), (f), DoD Instruction 1215.07 (Reference (g)), and this instruction.

PROCEDURES

1. QUALIFYING DL TRAINING COURSES OF INSTRUCTION FOR COMPENSATION

   a. To be considered for compensation, the proposed qualifying DL training courses must:

      (1) Be delivered via DL methodologies.

      (2) Support required training related to unit readiness or mobilization, as directed by the Military Secretary concerned.

   b. Training requirements related to unit readiness or mobilization, as directed by the Secretary concerned, may include courses supporting completion of specific occupational skill qualification (e.g., MOS or MOC, Air Force specialty code, Navy enlisted code), expeditionary, or combat skills training, and annual ancillary/general military training (AT/GMT).

2. DIRECTING THE DL TRAINING COURSE OF INSTRUCTION

   a. Consider these factors when directing RC Service members to train via DL methodologies:

      (1) Annual unit training requirements relative to scheduled unit training time.

      (2) The amount of recurring required training that can be conducted individually by Service members via DL methodologies.

      (3) Funds available for DL compensation.

   b. Should annual unit readiness and mobilization training requirements exceed actual scheduled training time and relevant courses of instruction are available via DL methods, then DL methods are recommended as long as unit training funds are available for compensation.

      (1) Service members will be notified of the requirement to complete a course of instruction via DL methodologies. The notification should include:

          (a) The name of the training course.

          (b) The date by which the training course must be complete.

          (c) The time to successful completion credited for compensation purposes.
(d) Documentation requirements to validate or confirm successful completion of the training course.

(2) The Secretary of the Military Department concerned or the Commandant of the USCG should facilitate access where possible to ancillary equipment or material required to complete courses of instruction and make available to Service members that are notified of DL course requirements (e.g., Common Access Card reader, computer, or Internet).

(3) RC Service members directed to train using DL methodologies on courses related to unit readiness or mobilization will be compensated.

c. Availability of DL training courses of instruction does not preclude a commander’s discretion to use other delivery methods (e.g., face-to-face, resident training) for courses of instruction if circumstances warrant.

3. COMPENSATION

a. Upon verification of successful completion, total the pre-determined time to successful completion for each course of instruction to determine the total time.

b. Pursuant to Reference (d), the rate of compensation will be at the rate of 1/30 of the basic pay authorized for a member of a corresponding grade entitled to basic pay for each period at which the member is engaged for at least 4 hours.

c. Award service credit in accordance with Reference (g).

d. Multiple courses of instruction, successfully completed, may be aggregated to achieve the minimum 4 hours required for compensation.

4. LIMITATIONS. The limitations of the number of retirement points that may be credited for a reserve retirement in an anniversary year are outlined in Reference (g).
