PROCEDURES

1. RETENTION. The continued military service of officers found unqualified to be promoted to the grade of first lieutenant or lieutenant (junior grade) is inconsistent with the mission requirements of the Military Services and the productivity and efficiency of the officer force.

2. MINIMUM RETENTION PERIOD. The Secretary of the Military Department concerned will retain an officer, whether on the active-duty list or reserve active-status list, who is found unqualified for promotion to the grade of first lieutenant or lieutenant (junior grade) for a minimum of 6 months after the date on which the promotion would have occurred, unless retention is inconsistent with good order and discipline.

a. If the officer qualifies for promotion during or at the completion of the retention period, he or she will be promoted, in accordance with the regulations and procedures prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.

b. If the officer does not qualify for promotion at any time after the completion of the 6-month retention period, he or she may be discharged under the regulations and procedures prescribed by the Secretary of the Military Department concerned.

3. FURTHER RETENTION OF DISQUALIFIED OFFICERS. An officer who is found unqualified for promotion to the grade of first lieutenant or lieutenant (junior grade) at the end of the 6-month period described in section 2 of this enclosure may be retained on active duty or in an active status by the Secretary of the Military Department in accordance with appropriate Service regulations and procedures. However, such an officer will be discharged at the end of the 18-month period beginning on the date on which the officer was first found not qualified for promotion, unless that officer has been promoted in the meantime.
