SECTION 1: GENERAL ISSUANCE INFORMATION

1.1. APPLICABILITY. This volume applies to OSD, the Military Departments, the Office of the Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff (CJCS) and the Joint Staff, the National Guard Bureau, the Combatant Commands (CCMDs), the Office of the Inspector General of the Department of Defense, the Defense Agencies, the DoD Field Activities, and all other organizational entities in DoD (referred to collectively in this volume as the “DoD Components”).

1.2. OTHER VOLUMES’ CONTENT. See Volume 1 of this manual for an overview and procedures for DSCA. See Volume 2 of this manual for procedures concerning DoD support of incidents, disasters, and emergencies.

1.3. SUMMARY OF CHANGE 1. The changes to this issuance are administrative and update organizational titles and references for accuracy.

SECTION 2: RESPONSIBILITIES

2.1. ASD(HD&GS). Under the authority, direction, and control of the Under Secretary of Defense for Policy (USD(P)), the ASD(HD&GS):

- a. Acts on behalf of the Secretary of Defense in accordance with DoDD 5111.13 and DoDD 3025.18.
- b. Coordinates DSCA policy matters to obtain USD(P) and Secretary of Defense approval, when appropriate.
- c. Provides oversight for DSCA planning activities within DoD and with other federal departments and agencies, as needed.
- d. Oversees and monitors compliance with this volume.

2.2. DOD AND OSD COMPONENT HEADS. DoD and OSD Component heads:

- a. Ensure that the development of DoD issuances, concept plans, interagency agreements, and memorandums of understanding or agreement with external agencies is consistent with this volume.
- b. Direct Components to comply with financial management guidance related to support provided for DSCA operations, including guidance related to tracking costs and seeking reimbursement.

SECTION 3: PRE-PLANNED DOD SUPPORT

3.1. DoD may provide support to civil authorities that is not in response to emergencies or disasters, but is generally planned in advance of the assistance provided. Support may be provided based on statute, DoD policies, and/or agreements with other agencies. Approving authorities may be at various levels within DoD.

3.2. DoD support of civilian law enforcement agencies is closely monitored from within and outside DoD. Military commanders and DoD officials must be aware of the limitations and restrictions placed on military members based on statute, Executive orders, and DoD policies on conducting domestic civilian law enforcement activities. DoD policy for DoD support of civilian law enforcement agencies is described in Section 4 of this volume. The U.S. Secret Service (USSS) is a civilian law enforcement agency to which DoD routinely provides military support (see Section 5 of this volume).

3.3. DoD has some direct responsibilities, but also provides support to civilian law enforcement agencies, for counterdrug operations. See Section 6 of this volume for information on DoD activities in counterdrug operations.

3.4. In some instances, the recipients of DoD support are not civil authorities but are considered qualifying entities, as defined in DoDD 3025.18. The ASD(HD&GS) has oversight responsibilities for DoD support for:

- a. Special events (see Section 7 of this volume for more information).
- b. National Special Security Events (NSSEs) (see Section 8 of this volume for more information).
- c. National and international sporting events (see Section 9 of this volume for more information).

3.5. DoD support to civil authorities may not fall under the direct oversight of the ASD(HD&GS). Similar to DoD support of special events, DoD support may be provided based on statute, DoD policies, and/or agreements with other agencies and non-governmental entities.

- a. DoD is authorized by statute to provide support to youth organizations and other community-related activities (see Section 10 of this volume for more information).
- b. DoD public affairs policies cover other community engagement activities that allow the public to interact with DoD to foster good will (see Section 11 of this volume for more information).

3.6. DoD is authorized to provide support to the President. Section 12 of this volume discusses the various types of support DoD provides to the President, Vice President, and White House Military Office (WHMO).

3.7. Members and employees of Congress are afforded DoD support mainly in the form of transportation, funeral support, and public affairs-related activities (see Section 13 of this volume for more information).

3.8. DoD has some unique capabilities that may be used to support the scientific community, including providing support for:

- a. Space programs (see Section 14 of this volume for more information).
- b. National Science Foundation (NSF) Polar programs (see Section 15 of this volume for more information).

SECTION 4: DOD SUPPORT OF CIVILIAN LAW ENFORCEMENT AGENCIES

4.1. GENERAL.

a. Section 1385 of Title 18, United States Code (U.S.C.), also known and referred to in this volume as “The Posse Comitatus Act,” as amended, limits direct military participation in civilian law enforcement activities unless it is authorized by U.S. statutes or the U.S. Constitution. Violators of the Posse Comitatus Act can face criminal prosecution and may be subject to fines and imprisonment. However, there are numerous exceptions to the Posse Comitatus Act that allow for military support of civilian law enforcement agencies. The Posse Comitatus Act does not apply to National Guard personnel in Title 32 or state active duty status. Although the Posse Comitatus Act applies only to the Army and the Air Force, the Secretary of Defense also is required by Section 275 of Title 10, U.S.C., to ensure that Army, Navy, Air Force, and Marine Corps personnel are restricted from direct participation in a search, seizure, arrest, or other similar activity, unless that participation is otherwise authorized by law.

b. In accordance with Section 271 of Title 10, U.S.C., the needs of civilian law enforcement officials for information will, to the maximum extent practicable, be taken into account in the planning and execution of military training or operations. DoD implements this requirement in DoDI 1322.28 with respect to military training off federal real property.

c. Procedure 12 in DoD Manual (DoDM) 5240.01 governs the support that Defense Intelligence Components can provide to civilian law enforcement agencies.

d. DoD domestic counter-terrorism operational response and support in countering weapons of mass destruction is governed by presidential policy directives, Section 831 of Title 18, U.S.C., Section 282 of Title 10, U.S.C., and other applicable laws.

However, requests may be made to the DoD Executive Secretary as separate requests for assistance. Reimbursement will be determined by applicable legal authorities.

7.5. FUNDING AND REIMBURSEMENT.

a. Statutory Authority. DoD has limited statutory authorization to provide support on a non-reimbursable basis to other departments and agencies during certain special events.

(1) Presidential Protection. In accordance with Public Law 94-524, the Secretary of Defense may provide temporary support to the USSS that is directly related to the security of the President, Vice President, or the next in line of succession on a non-reimbursable basis. If the support is not temporary, then it is provided on a reimbursable basis.

(2) Presidential Inaugurations. In accordance with Section 2553 of Title 10, U.S.C., the Secretary of Defense may loan property and provide assistance for planning and carrying out ceremonial activities and activities related to the security and safety of Presidential inaugurations. Other support may be provided on a reimbursable basis.

(3) U.S. Capitol Police. In accordance with Section 1970 of Title 2, U.S.C., the Secretary of Defense may provide temporary support on a non-reimbursable basis to the Capitol Police Board in the execution of the duties of the Capitol Police.

(4) National Scout Jamboree. In accordance with Section 2554 of Title 10, U.S.C., the Secretary of Defense is authorized to lend equipment and provide services and expendable medical supplies, to the extent that items are in stock and items or services are available, to the Boy Scouts of America for the use and accommodation of Scouts, Scouters, and officials who attend any national or world Boy Scout Jamboree. Most support is non-reimbursable; however, if equipment and services must be transported, there may be a cost associated with that request.

(5) Girl Scouts. In accordance with Section 2555 of Title 10, U.S.C., the Secretary of Defense is authorized to provide, without expense to the U.S. Government, transportation for the Girl Scouts and officials for international Girl Scout events.

(6) National Conventions. In accordance with Section 2558 of Title 10, U.S.C., the Secretaries of the Military Departments may provide services (limited air and ground transportation, communications, medical assistance, administrative support, and security support) in connection with the national conference or convention of national military associations. The services are provided in conjunction with military training.

b. Law Enforcement Support. In accordance with Section 277 of Title 10, U.S.C., reimbursement for DoD support provided to civilian law enforcement agencies during special events is required, unless the Secretary of Defense elects to waive reimbursement after determining that the support:

- (1) Is provided in the normal course of military training or operations; or
- (2) Results in a benefit to the DoD or National Guard personnel providing the support that is substantially equivalent to that which would otherwise be obtained from military operations or training.

c. Economy Act. The Economy Act provides authority and a reimbursement mechanism for federal departments and agencies to provide support to one another.

SECTION 8: NSSES

8.1. GENERAL.

a. The Secretary of Homeland Security determines whether an event is an NSSE.

b. There are specific agencies identified as lead and supporting agencies for NSSEs.

(1) The USSS is designated as the lead agency for planning, implementing, and coordinating operational security for events of national significance.

(2) The FBI is designated the lead agency for intelligence collection and dissemination, counter-terrorism, hostage negotiation and rescue, and crisis management. DoD domestic counter-terrorism operational response and support for countering weapons of mass destruction is governed by Presidential Policy Directives, Section 831 of Title 18, U.S.C., Section 282 of Title 10, U.S.C., and other applicable laws.

(3) FEMA is designated the lead agency for planning and coordinating an effective response to possible emergencies or major disasters.

(4) The Departments of State, Defense, Health and Human Services, Transportation, and Energy, the Environmental Protection Agency, and other departments and agencies as required, consistent with their authorities and appropriations, make available specialized units in support of NSSEs.

c. Within DoD, the ASD(HD&GS) serves as the principal civilian advisor to the Secretary of Defense and the USD(P) on DSCA matters. Further, the ASD(HD&GS) has been delegated the authority to develop, coordinate, and oversee the implementation of DoD support for NSSEs.

d. Presidential Policy Directive-22 affirms the commitment of the Federal Government's protective and incident management capabilities, but the responsibility for safety and security during NSSEs is shared by local, State, tribal, and federal authorities with jurisdiction or statutory responsibility. During an NSSE, local, State, tribal, and federal law enforcement partners strive to balance security with the general public's ability to attend and participate in the event.

e. DoD is an element of the Federal Government. However, for the purposes of how military support is provided to NSSEs, the Figure illustrates the relationships between all levels of government and the role of DoD's capabilities in supporting these events.

f. Local and State authorities may receive federal funding to help offset the cost of safety and security of NSSEs (e.g., Democratic and Republican National Conventions). If obtained, these funds may be used to pay for State National Guard capabilities, responding to local and State authorities, under the command and control of the Governor and the Adjutant General. Examples of programs administered by DHS include:

- (1) The State Homeland Security Grant Program.
- (2) The Urban Area Security Initiative.
