When I came back to my job I felt that I didn't do well yet so I asked the former director manager for an ordinary leave but he refused and accused me of being evaded from my work. Then he started to practice harass and pressure me which lead me to leave my job although of my monetary need. And he put an end to my job. But when I got better I submitted a request to return to my job. but the director general refused strongly with my thank and regard.

Ta'bea S. Meimi.

N.A.T.

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are under 15 years of age is expected to increase from 1.1 billion to 1.5 billion.

As the world's population grows, the demand for food and other resources will increase. This will put pressure on the environment and on the world's food supply.

One way to meet this demand is to increase the amount of food that is produced. This can be done by using more land for agriculture or by using more intensive farming methods.

Another way to meet this demand is to reduce the amount of food that is wasted. This can be done by improving food storage and distribution systems.

There are many other ways to meet this demand, and it is important that we find ways to do so that do not harm the environment or the people of the world.

One of the most important things we can do is to make sure that everyone has access to the food they need to live. This is a goal that we should all strive for.

There are many challenges ahead of us, but if we work together, we can find the solutions we need to meet the world's growing demand for food.

We need to make sure that we are using our resources wisely and that we are taking care of the environment. This is the only way we can ensure a sustainable future for all.

Let us all join together to make a difference. Let us all work to ensure that everyone has access to the food they need to live.

Let us all make a commitment to a sustainable future. Let us all make a commitment to a world where everyone has access to the food they need to live.

Let us all make a commitment to a world where everyone has access to the food they need to live. Let us all make a commitment to a sustainable future.

Let us all make a commitment to a world where everyone has access to the food they need to live. Let us all make a commitment to a sustainable future.

Let us all make a commitment to a world where everyone has access to the food they need to live. Let us all make a commitment to a sustainable future.

Let us all make a commitment to a world where everyone has access to the food they need to live. Let us all make a commitment to a sustainable future.

Let us all make a commitment to a world where everyone has access to the food they need to live. Let us all make a commitment to a sustainable future.

Let us all make a commitment to a world where everyone has access to the food they need to live. Let us all make a commitment to a sustainable future.

Let us all make a commitment to a world where everyone has access to the food they need to live. Let us all make a commitment to a sustainable future.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased by 1.2 million (Office of National Statistics 1999). The number of people aged 65 and over is projected to increase to 6.5 million by 2010, and the number of people aged 75 and over to 4.5 million (Office of National Statistics 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to develop services to meet the needs of older people, and a number of initiatives have been launched in the UK to address this need. The Department of Health (1999) has published a strategy for older people, which sets out the government's commitment to improve the lives of older people. The strategy is based on three main principles: (1) to ensure that older people have the opportunity to live independently and actively; (2) to ensure that older people have access to the services and support they need; and (3) to ensure that older people are treated with respect and dignity.

The strategy is based on the following assumptions: (1) that older people are a diverse group with different needs and interests; (2) that older people have the right to live independently and actively; (3) that older people have the right to access the services and support they need; and (4) that older people should be treated with respect and dignity. The strategy sets out a number of key objectives, including: to improve the health and well-being of older people; to improve the social and economic participation of older people; and to improve the living conditions of older people.

The strategy also sets out a number of key actions, including: to improve the health and well-being of older people by promoting healthy living and preventing illness; to improve the social and economic participation of older people by providing opportunities for older people to participate in social and economic activities; and to improve the living conditions of older people by providing housing and other services that meet their needs.

the 1990s, the number of people in the UK who are aged 65 and over has increased by 1.5 million, and the number of people aged 75 and over has increased by 1.2 million (Office of National Statistics 1999). The number of people aged 65 and over is projected to increase to 6.5 million by 2010, and the number of people aged 75 and over to 4.5 million (Office of National Statistics 1999).

There is a growing awareness of the need to develop strategies to meet the needs of the ageing population. The Department of Health (1999) has identified the need to develop a 'new paradigm' of care for the elderly, one that is based on the principles of 'active ageing' and 'positive ageing'. This paradigm is based on the idea that ageing is a process, and that the quality of life in old age can be improved by promoting the health and well-being of older people.

The Department of Health (1999) has identified a number of key areas for action in order to achieve this paradigm. These include: (1) promoting the health and well-being of older people; (2) ensuring that older people have access to the services and resources they need; (3) promoting the independence and autonomy of older people; and (4) promoting the social inclusion of older people.

The Department of Health (1999) has also identified a number of key areas for research in order to achieve this paradigm. These include: (1) research on the health and well-being of older people; (2) research on the needs of older people; (3) research on the effectiveness of services for older people; and (4) research on the social inclusion of older people.

Lessons Learned from Prisons Payment, 11 May

On 11 May, the Interim Minister Of Prisons consummated emergency payments of $15,180 to 759 Baghdad prison guards. The exercise began calmly, yet the crowd became near riotous after an hour of paying activity. The resident prison administrative staff appeared to agitate the prison guards and did not know each demanding payment, although they used handwritten lists. This caused confusion and suspicion among the payees and further exacerbated the situation. The waiting guards stormed the chain link fence surrounding the payment building and swarmed into the building entryway. This situation was dangerous to the interim ministry personnel making payments and to the MP security personnel.

Lessons learned:

- A more efficient pay process mechanism must be put in place. The government had such a system prior to the war, but efforts to restart it appear to be hampered by Washington politics
- Iraqi administrative personnel must be vetted to preclude agitating the workforce.
- More security is a requirement in anticipation of these pay situations turning volatile.
- Adequate food and water must accompany pay teams in the event of being trapped inside facilities by waiting pay recipients.
- ROE for use of force should be reviewed to enable all US members to respond appropriately to tense situations.

Guidance Regarding Transfer of Salary Payments
From Ministries of Labour & Social Affairs, and Interior to MOS.

Timing: Urgent

Background.

The Prison Department, MOS has been recently formed by the transfer of all correctional facilities from the Ministries mentioned above. Consequently guidance is needed regarding the procedure to be followed as payments have already been made by the previous parent ministries.

There is also an issue regarding non payment of 140 prison employees who were based in two establishments in Diyala. It is not clear whether Diyala has been authorized to pay the employees who live in Baghdad and

I would like authority for the Diwala employees to be paid in Baghdad as a means of bringing the financial controls back to the MoS

There are public order issues. I understand from the Dept of Labour & Social Affairs that there have been two riots involving Prison office and the day before I visited the premises soldiers drew their weapons to protect themselves. I was able to keep order myself but will find it difficult to do so in the future.

P.S. Can we have a brief meeting to discuss this today if possible. I am not available this morning.

SOP

the 1990s, the number of people in the world who are undernourished has increased from 600 million to 800 million (FAO 1996).

There are a number of reasons why the world's population is becoming more undernourished. First, the world's population is growing rapidly, and the number of mouths to feed is increasing. Second, the world's food production is not keeping pace with the growing population. Third, the world's food distribution is uneven, with some areas having a surplus and others a deficit. Fourth, the world's food quality is poor, with many people suffering from malnutrition. Fifth, the world's food prices are high, making it difficult for many people to afford food. Sixth, the world's food security is threatened by climate change, which is causing droughts and floods. Seventh, the world's food systems are becoming more industrialized, which is leading to a loss of biodiversity and a decline in soil fertility. Eighth, the world's food systems are becoming more globalized, which is leading to a loss of local food systems and a decline in food security.

There are a number of ways to address the world's food security problem. First, we need to increase food production. Second, we need to improve food distribution. Third, we need to improve food quality. Fourth, we need to reduce food prices. Fifth, we need to improve food security. Sixth, we need to protect biodiversity. Seventh, we need to improve soil fertility. Eighth, we need to protect local food systems. Ninth, we need to protect food security.

There are a number of organizations that are working to address the world's food security problem. The United Nations World Food Programme (WFP) is the largest international organization working to fight hunger. The International Fund for Agricultural Development (IFAD) is a specialized agency of the United Nations that works to improve rural livelihoods. The World Bank is a multilateral development bank that provides financial assistance to developing countries. The World Health Organization (WHO) is a specialized agency of the United Nations that works to improve global health.

There are a number of things that we can do to help address the world's food security problem. We can donate money to organizations that are working to fight hunger. We can volunteer our time to help feed the hungry. We can grow our own food. We can reduce our food waste. We can eat locally sourced food. We can support sustainable agriculture. We can advocate for policies that support food security.

Food security is a global issue that affects everyone. It is a problem that we need to solve together. We need to work together to increase food production, improve food distribution, improve food quality, reduce food prices, improve food security, protect biodiversity, improve soil fertility, protect local food systems, and protect food security.

Food security is a complex issue that requires a multi-faceted approach. We need to address the root causes of food insecurity, such as poverty, inequality, and climate change. We need to work together to create a world where everyone has access to enough food to live a healthy and active life.

Food security is a right that everyone has. It is a right that we need to protect. We need to work together to ensure that everyone has access to enough food to live a healthy and active life.

Food security is a goal that we need to achieve. It is a goal that we need to work together to achieve. We need to work together to create a world where everyone has access to enough food to live a healthy and active life.

Food security is a challenge that we need to overcome. It is a challenge that we need to work together to overcome. We need to work together to create a world where everyone has access to enough food to live a healthy and active life.

Food security is a dream that we need to realize. It is a dream that we need to work together to realize. We need to work together to create a world where everyone has access to enough food to live a healthy and active life.

Food security is a vision that we need to create. It is a vision that we need to work together to create. We need to work together to create a world where everyone has access to enough food to live a healthy and active life.

Food security is a reality that we need to embrace. It is a reality that we need to work together to embrace. We need to work together to create a world where everyone has access to enough food to live a healthy and active life.

Food security is a future that we need to build. It is a future that we need to work together to build. We need to work together to create a world where everyone has access to enough food to live a healthy and active life.

Food security is a hope that we need to hold onto. It is a hope that we need to work together to hold onto. We need to work together to create a world where everyone has access to enough food to live a healthy and active life.

Food security is a love that we need to share. It is a love that we need to work together to share. We need to work together to create a world where everyone has access to enough food to live a healthy and active life.

Subject: Contacts for ORHA prison recs.

Dear Lt. Col. [REDACTED]

As per your request regarding prison reform in Iraq, please find below a very small list (not exhaustive at all) of names that might be of assistance. In addition to the names below, if you have not done so already, you might also consult the various U.N. bodies and special rapporteurs such as the special rapporteur on torture, the special rapporteurs on judicial independence, the working group on arbitrary detention, and others. I have also attached the abridged recommendation from HRW's 1993 global prison conditions report. Please be in touch if I can be of further assistance.

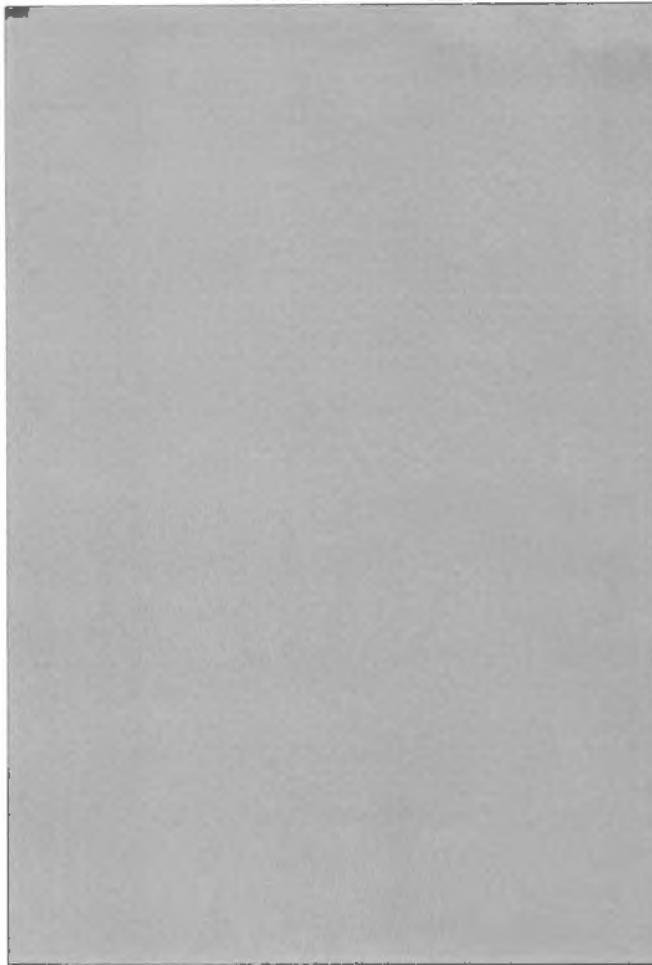

Best Regards,
