EXECUTIVE SUMMARY

This report is presented by the Department of Defense (DoD) in accordance with title 10 of the United States Code, section 2249c (10 U.S.C. 2249c). The Regional Defense Combating Terrorism Fellowship Program (CTFP) was established to meet an emerging and urgent defense requirement to build partnerships in the struggle against violent extremism through targeted, non-lethal, combating terrorism (CbT) education and training. The CTFP directly supports the DoD's efforts by providing CbT education and training for mid- to senior-level international military officers, ministry of defense civilians, and security officials.

The CTFP's goals are:

- Develop and strengthen human and intellectual capital that understands the ideologies and mechanisms of terrorism and the ways and means of countering them;
- Build the CbT capabilities and capacities of partner nations;
- Build and strengthen a global network of CbT experts and practitioners committed to participation in support of U.S. efforts against terrorists and terrorist organizations;
- Counter ideological support for terrorism and violent extremism;
- Harmonize views about the threat of terrorism and its evolution; and
- Develop CbT and Counter Insurgency (COIN) mutual understandings.

CTFP funding allows the U.S. military and Government to address key CbT challenges globally, regionally, and in specific countries through tailored CbT educational and training activities. The CTFP administers training programs for Geographic Combatant Commanders (GCCs), U.S. embassies, DoD educational institutions, regional centers, and military services to adapt to emerging CbT requirements through partnerships with military and government officials from around the world.

As detailed in the remainder of this report and the table at page two, the CTFP sponsored more than 60 CbT educational events in fiscal year (FY) 2014. These events involved approximately 2,050 security personnel from 123 countries, all with the goal of meeting the needs identified by the GCCs. Programs range from two master's degree programs, "short courses" lasting three to twelve weeks, and shorter programs conducted in the continental United States as well as in partner nations.

CTFP FY 2014 Program Snapshot

This report accounts for the expenditure of appropriated funds during FY 2014 for the CTFP, including the countries that received CTFP funding, the total amount of funding provided for each country, and the educational courses attended by foreign officers and officials. The report also includes an assessment of the effectiveness of the program and a review of efforts to improve it.

The contents of this report are unclassified and reflect data gathered from multiple sources, including security assistance officers, GCCs, and other DoD entities.

I. CTFP CONTRIBUTIONS

A. OVERVIEW

Created in 2002, the Combating Terrorism Fellowship Program (CTFP) was established to meet DoD requirements to build partnerships in the struggle against violent extremism through targeted, non-lethal, combating terrorism (CbT) education and training. The CTFP directly supports DoD efforts by providing CbT education and training for mid- to senior-level international military officers, ministry of defense civilians, and security officials. The CTFP provides unique relationship and capacity-building opportunities that enable partner countries to address threats of terrorism within their borders and regions and strengthens collaboration with and support for U.S. and partner efforts to defeat terrorism.

The Assistant Secretary of Defense for Special Operations/Low Intensity Conflict (ASD(SO/LIC)) provides policy oversight. The Defense Security Cooperation Agency (DSCA) provides program and financial management.

The CTFP's goals are to:

- Develop and strengthen human and intellectual capital that understands the ideologies and mechanisms of terrorism and the ways and means of countering them;
- Build the CbT capabilities and capacities of partner nations;
- Build and strengthen a global network of CbT experts and practitioners committed to participation in support of U.S. efforts against terrorists and terrorist organizations;
- Counter ideological support for terrorism and violent extremism;
- Harmonize views about the threat of terrorism and its evolution; and
- Develop CbT and Counter Insurgency (COIN) mutual understandings.

CTFP programs are designed to address key CbT challenges globally, regionally, and in specific countries through tailored education programs. The CTFP is a flexible tool that can focus efforts toward building partner capacity to meet specific objectives of a Geographic Combatant Command (GCC).

The CTFP works hand-in-hand with the GCCs to identify candidates for programs and to develop CbT programs specifically tailored to partner nations and their regional and global relationships. The GCCs recommend participants to the Office of the Secretary of Defense (OSD) for approval. Potential candidates include mid- to senior-level military officials, ministry of defense civilians, and other foreign government security officials who have an impact on their country's ability and willingness to cooperate with the United States in the struggle against violent extremism. The CTFP funds these participants to attend DoD programs in the United States and abroad. All candidates are screened and vetted for human rights abuses as required by annual DoD appropriations acts (in a provision also referred to as the Leahy Amendment).

The CTFP builds interagency cooperation among partners by training a broad range of foreign CbT military officers and government security officials, and provides specialized programs to address individual country needs. CTFP programs engage military, national police, gendarmerie, internal security, border security, and other security officials. The program enables DoD to implement the President's National Strategy for Counter-terrorism more effectively by providing resources that can be targeted toward integrating instruments of national power, traditionally expressed as diplomatic, economic, informational, and military. In addition, the CTFP seeks to integrate military instruments with other security-sector elements, such as finance, intelligence, and law enforcement.

In FY 2014, approximately 2,050 foreign military, and security officials attended CTFP-funded programs throughout the six GCCs. This included CbT education and training support to emerging regional and sub-regional organizations and alliances. In addition to regional events the CTFP provides a series of globally oriented courses that enhance mutual understanding, and facilitates cooperation across the globe.

Regional and global events are crucial in building a robust network of CbT officials who share a common understanding of CbT issues, and are able to reach out to other organizations and countries to coordinate effectively. However, in helping to build this network, the CTFP recognizes that 10 U.S.C. 2249c restricts payment of costs only to those associated with the education and training of individuals who are currently foreign military officers, ministry of defense officials, and security officials. Therefore, all foreign participants in CTFP events are screened to ensure their current eligibility under the law. In most classrooms, U.S. personnel are learning alongside CTFP-funded participants, developing and reinforcing relationships between partner countries and the United States. The goal is to bring together a network of CbT practitioners, and empower them to disrupt and defeat worldwide terrorist networks. The CTFP catalyzes networks and actively sustains and facilitates these connections through continuing education and training activities that reinforce relationships. The network, as it grows, will become increasingly self-reinforcing and less reliant on the United States for support.

B. REPORT REQUIREMENTS

Pursuant to 10 U.S.C. 2249c, "not later than December 1 of each year, the Secretary of Defense shall submit to Congress a report on the administration of this section during the fiscal year ended in such year."

This report is submitted by DoD in accordance with 10 U.S.C. 2249c and provides:

- A complete accounting of the expenditure of appropriated funds for authorized purposes, including:
 - The countries of the foreign officers and officials for whom costs were paid;
 - For each such country, the total amount of the costs paid; and
 - The total number of students trained.
- The training courses attended by the foreign officers and officials, including a specification of which, if any, courses were conducted in foreign countries.
- An assessment of the effectiveness of the CTFP in increasing the cooperation of the governments of foreign countries with the U.S. National Counterterrorism Strategy.

• A discussion of any actions being taken to improve the program, including a list of any unfunded or unmet training requirements and requests.

C. PROGRAM ASSESSMENT

Since the CTFP's creation in 2002, graduates of the program have continued to advance professionally, and in many cases have entered into senior-level positions in their respective countries. The CTFP works with 11 institutions to provide resident courses of various lengths and CbT focus. Five of these institutions are Regional Centers under DSCA: the Near East South Asia Center for Strategic Studies (NESA), the William Perry Center for Hemispheric Defense Studies (CHDS), the Asia-Pacific Center for Security Studies (APCSS), the Africa Center for Strategic Studies (ACSS), and the George C. Marshall European Center for Security Studies (GCMC). The sixth, the Defense Institute for International Legal Studies (DIILS), is an academic institution under DSCA. The remaining five are academic institutions under other Defense Agencies: The Defense Intelligence Agency/National Intelligence University (DIA/NIU), the Naval Post Graduate School/Defense Analysis Department (NPS/DA), the National Defense University/College of International Security Affairs (NDU/CISA), the Joint Special Operations University (JSOU), and the Center for Civil Military Relations (CCMR).

U.S. Africa Command (USAFRICOM): In FY 2014, CTFP-funded programs and activities considerably increased throughout Africa reflecting the priorities expressed in the National Strategy for Counterterrorism, the U.S. Special Operations Command (USSOCOM)-focused country list, and the Guidance for Employment of the Force (GEF). Concerns over rising terrorist threats in Africa, notably from the Lord's Resistance Army (LRA) in Uganda, Boko Haram in Nigeria, al-Shabaab in Somalia, al-Qaida in the Islamic Maghreb (AQIM), and the Libyan Islamic Fighting Group, fueled the expansion of CTFP-funded programs and activities on the continent.

USAFRICOM, in concert with interagency and international partners, builds defense capabilities, responds to crises, and deters and defeats transnational threats in order to advance U.S. national interests and promote regional security, stability, and prosperity. The CTFP was very active in the USAFRICOM Area of Responsibility (AOR) with partner nations directly affected by, or in the periphery of, security threats posed by violent extremist organizations/terrorism in FY 2014. CTFP funding enabled USAFRICOM to address key CbT challenges in Africa through tailored CbT educational and training activities. CTFP courses and mobile education team (MET) initiatives devoted considerable resources building mid-level leadership capabilities in a number of core CbT skills throughout East, North, and West Africa.

Eastern/Southern Africa

Since the attacks at the U.S. Embassies in Tanzania and Kenya, the U.S. Government swiftly responded with conviction declaring the greater Horn of Africa (an area that includes Burundi, Kenya, Tanzania, Uganda, Sudan, South Sudan, Eritrea, Ethiopia, Somalia, and Djibouti) a critical region in global contingency operations to combat terrorism. DoD partnered with regional leaders to disrupt and reduce al-Shabaab, al Qaeda, and the LRA infrastructures and threats in the area. The CTFP regional seminars and sharing approach have strengthened cooperation between the U.S. Government and East African regional leaders in advancing national, regional, and global CbT partnerships.

Burundi, Kenya, Tanzania, and Uganda participated in the International Counter Terrorism Fellowship (ICTF) master's degree program. The ICTF graduate degree focuses on developing a network of leaders with CbT strategic-level vision that will translate into effective approaches for CbT worldwide.

Uganda, the largest recipient of FY 2014 CTFP funds in Africa, nominated two participants to the ICTF and two participants to the Counter Terrorism Policy and Strategy (CTPS) master's degree program. Uganda hosted the East Africa bilateral MET initiative – a regional forum with an emphasis on assisting regional leaders to develop long-term strategy for dealing with the LRA. Uganda also hosted a CTFP - Joint Special Operations University (JSOU) bilateral MET, which has since strengthened the knowledge and capabilities of Uganda's CbT professionals by examining the elements of national power and applying them in a whole-of-government approach to CbT.

West/North Africa

The ever-increasing religious and ethnic tensions in the West and North Africa regions have created breeding grounds for extremism. In FY 2014, the CTFP was very active in Ghana, Niger, Tunisia, and Cameroon. The CTFP organized a combined total of four CCMR and JSOU seminars. Each seminar lasted one week and was specifically designed for mid- to senior-grade officials from regional governments. These seminars were carefully tailored to help advance partner nations' operational CbT capabilities, attain a regional understanding of CbT concerns, and address impending regional-security threats. The seminars pulled together a coalition of governments and strengthened their knowledge and capabilities enabling effective collaboration in their ongoing efforts to disrupt and reduce the threat of AQIM and Boko Haram in West Africa.

Ghana

The CTFP collaborated with JSOU to organize a Special Operations Combating Terrorism Regional Seminar from March 31 – April 4, 2014, in Accra, Ghana. Fifty-six senior officials from 10 countries participated from various levels of government. Key attendees included: Director of Military Intelligence and the Secretary General of National Defense from Burkina Faso; Presidential Advisor from Chad; Director of Military Intelligence from Niger; Chief of Intelligence and Commander of the Ministry of Defense Counter Terrorism Unit from Senegal; and Commander of the Ministry of Defense Counter Terrorism

Unit and Director of Army Intelligence and Plans from Tunisia. Participants provided extremely positive feedback and continue to highlight the importance of international cooperation and corresponding partner networks to combat terrorism.

Niger

The CTFP funded a CCMR MET counterterrorism workshop in Niamey, Niger. The workshop provided instructions on basic requirements for establishing a Fusion Center in Niger. The CCMR instructors provided detailed overview and analysis of the Center's planning structure to 19 military and national police officers from across the country. Participants shared ideas and contributed to the conceptual scheme of the Fusion Center. Once formalized, the Fusion Center will help improve intelligence collaboration in support of the ongoing effort against Al-Qaeda and Boko Haram West Africa.

CCMR Training in Niger June 2014

The CTFP sponsored a JSOU bilateral MET seminar from February 24 – 28, 2014. The workshop provided instruction on CbT principles to 29 senior-level, experienced special operations forces, and military officers from Tunisia. The forum promoted candid discussion and fostered creative ideas for deterring and defeating terrorist threats in Tunisia. The CTFP will continue to train, educate, and foster relationships between the U.S. Government and the Tunisian CbT communities.

FY14 CTFP JSOU MET - Tunisia

Cameroon

In the Lake Chad Basin, the CTFP coordinated a CCMR MET in Yaoundé, Cameroon, from June 9 – 13, 2014. This regional seminar emphasized a whole-of-government approach to strategizing and addressing security threats emanating from Boko Haram. More than 30 military personnel and national police officers from Cameroon, Chad, Niger, and Nigeria participated. Partner nations' attendees shared lessons learned in developing peer-to-peer approaches for defeating Boko Haram.

FY14 CTFP CCMR Regional MET - Cameroon

• U.S. Central Command (USCENTCOM): USCENTCOM seeks to promote cooperation among nations, respond to crises, and deter or defeat State and non-state aggression. Additionally, USCENTCOM coordinates development and, when necessary, reconstruction in order to establish the conditions for regional security, stability, and prosperity. In FY 2014, the CTFP-sponsored activities strengthened capabilities of regional militaries and security forces pulling together a network of CbT experts committed to the U.S. efforts against violent extremism and transnational threats.

USCENTCOM CTFP events for FY 2014 ranged from individual training conducted at a variety of training sites in the United States to attendance at seminars and conferences hosted by the regional centers (GCMC, CCMR, NESA, and APCSS) to METs working in the USCENTCOM AOR.

Yemen

The CTFP continued its assistance in helping Yemen increase its capacity to address challenges of extremism both inside Yemen and in the region. NESA hosted 30 senior Yemeni officers in Washington where they met with experts in the fields of counterterrorism and violent extremism. The group collectively drafted recommendations for improving Yemen's support to U.S. objectives in the region. These recommendations included the need to improve Yemen's intelligence collection and analysis capabilities as they relate to CbT. Additionally, they identified the need to professionalize Yemen's military education system as a way to enhance stability and security.

Also of note in Yemen is the thesis work of a Yemeni officer who earned his master's degree at NPS this year under CTFP funding. He used advanced social network and geospatial analysis to profile a dissident group currently threatening Yemen's internal stability.

The NESA Center hosted a CTFP program on the role of non-state actors in political violence and how this has encouraged more terrorist threats throughout the region. Thirty nations participated in this two-week workshop. Of note is that this program was not limited to the Near East South Asia Region, but included nations from around the world.

The GCMC hosted a global group of senior executives in its Adapting Strategies to Transnational Threats seminar. This seminar focused on evaluating al-Qaeda's changing strategy and its expansion outside of the USCENTCOM AOR.

• U.S. European Command (USEUCOM): USEUCOM focuses on building strong partnerships that allow for adaptability and shared security within an ever-changing global environment. USEUCOM partners with European nations to build a shared interest, address regional issues, and maintain stability in Europe, parts of the Middle East, and Eurasia. In FY 2014, the CTFP-sponsored activities brought together a regional network of CbT experts to synchronize views regarding terrorist threats across Europe and the United States.

The CTFP activities in USEUCOM aimed to counter evolving transnational terrorist threats from Al-Qaeda, Islamic State of Iraq and Levant (ISIL), and their respective affiliates. The CTFP conducted five MET engagements in the following countries: Jericho (the West Bank), Macedonia, Bosnia and Herzegovina, Bulgaria, and Greece. These MET engagements were designed to combat terrorist threats and capability gaps in the USEUCOM AOR.

Palestine

In Jericho, West Bank, the U.S. Security Coordinator (USSC) for Israel and the Palestinian Authority hosted a bilateral MET from May 31 – June 5, 2014. Instructors from the DIILS provided a seminar on Legal Aspects of Combating Terrorism fostering partnerships with 42 military officers and strengthening U.S. efforts in combating ISIL and al-Qaida. The seminar also emphasized major challenges facing interagency coordination and cooperation and the military judicial system. Participants were very pleased with the program and requested a follow-on program in February 2015.

Macedonia

The CTFP in collaboration with the U.S. Embassy Skopje, Macedonia, organized a seminar on Countering Terrorism and Countering Violent Extremism (CVE) from May 20 – 22, 2014. More than 40 participants attended the seminar including six senior members from the Macedonian Ministry of Interior (MOI), Ministry of Defense (MOD), Ministry of Foreign Affairs (MFA), and Intelligence Service officials from Albania, Bosnia-Herzegovina, Bulgaria, Hungary, Kosovo, Macedonia, Montenegro, Romania, and Slovenia. The Seminar focused on the looming Salafi/Jihadist threat to the Balkans, understanding terrorist motivations, CVE in Macedonia, terrorist disengagement and deradicalization, right-wing extremism, and United Kingdom CVE experience and lessons learned.

Bulgaria

The CTFP sponsored the first bilateral MET, the Inter-Ministerial Collaboration Course (IC2) in Sofia, Bulgaria, from September 8 - 12, 2014. The IC2 course trained 30 Bulgarian Special Forces officers and security-sector professionals facing complex security threats that also affect other NATO and European Union member countries. Major highlights included global strategic environment and relation to violent extremism; challenges of whole-of-government collaboration in confronting security threats; enabling partners to contribute to security assistance; and intelligence fusion and information sharing. The seminar provided participants a better understanding of a whole-of-government approach to addressing security issues and capacity building. Bulgarian security officials gained a better understanding of how international forces and strategies can be used to disrupt complex irregular threats, and gained knowledge and expertise of the strategic principles and enablers that influence violent extremism in order to enhance their national and international counter strategies.

Bosnia and Herzegovina

The CTFP coordinated with the U.S. Embassy Sarajevo, Bosnia and Herzegovina (BiH) to organize a Legal Aspects of Combating Corruption in Security Sector Seminar, from September 13 - 21, 2014. The DIILS faculty trained representatives from the MOD Inspector General Office, Ministry of Security, Agency for the Prevention of Corruption and Coordination of the Fight against Corruption, Office of the Chief Prosecutor, Border Police, and State Investigative Protection Agency. The seminar provided government officials instruction on the legal aspects of combating corruption and critical strategies for combating corruption and terrorism. Participants explored options to build strong national anti-corruption and CbT systems through familiarization with the relevant U.S. organizations and individuals who have demonstrated best practices in combating corruption and terrorism.

Greece

The U.S. Embassy Athens, the GCMC, and the CTFP organized a trilateral seminar on developing effective border protection to prevent trafficking and terrorism from September 23 – 26, 2014. The seminar was chaired by the United States Ambassador to Greece, Ambassador Pearce, and the German Ambassador to Greece, Ambassador Schoof. Commodore Karagiopoulos of the Hellenic Coast Guard emphasized global transnational terrorist threats and Greece's challenges with the spillover from the Syrian conflict. A representative from USSOCOM provided a comprehensive operational overview of the foreign fighter movements, issues, and challenges. The seminar enhanced the capabilities of front-line law enforcement, coast guard, border control agencies, and counter-terrorism agencies by providing a forum for further discussions, exchange of ideas, and best practices to combat terrorist threats and establish a network to confront current terrorist threats emanating from Africa and the Levant.

U.S. Northern Command (USNORTHCOM): USNORTHCOM conducts homeland defense, civil support, and security cooperation to defend and secure the United States. USNORTHCOM plans, organizes, and executes homeland defense and civil support missions in the Gulf of Mexico, the Straits of Florida, and portions of the Caribbean region including the Bahamas, Puerto Rico, and the U.S. Virgin Islands. In FY 2014, CTFP funding enabled USNORTHCOM to achieve its regional objectives through tailored CbT educational and training activities. The CTFP sponsored 27 international military students from the USNORTHCOM AOR, with one earning a Counterterrorism Policy and Strategy master's degree from NPS – a graduate degree program designed to strengthened partner nations' capacity to understand more fully terrorist organizations, operations, financing, and the legal framework to combat these activities.

• U.S. Pacific Command (USPACOM): USPACOM aims to strengthen alliances and partnerships, maintain an assured presence in the region, and communicate effectively its intent and resolve to safeguard U.S. national interests. USPACOM is committed to being agile, flexible, and ready to meet the challenges of an uncertain and dynamic security environment. CTFP funding enabled USPACOM to achieve its desired end state through tailored CbT educational and training activities. In FY 2014, CTFP-sponsored activities strengthened alliances and partnerships of its regional network of CbT experts committed to U.S. efforts against transnational threats.

In the USPACOM AOR, 223 international officials attended CTFP-sponsored training programs. In addition to the working groups and mobile programs, USPACOM also had two partner-nation officials earn master's degrees from NPS in Monterey, California. The programs were aimed at continuing to bolster the region's counterterrorism forces. Among these programs was the annual Asia-Pacific Intelligence Chiefs Conference (APICC), in Dhaka, Bangladesh. The APICC is a forum where the Directors of Military Intelligence from 30 Indo-Asian-Pacific nations discuss regional CbT issues with a specific focus on intelligence concerns. Discussions included impediments and opportunities in current Indo-Asia-Pacific CbT cooperation, failed past engagements, political differences, and disagreements in prioritization impeding cooperation. Among their chief concerns was a lack of agility and ability in their government structures to counter the terrorist narrative. Additionally, they identified the need to establish a working group addressing cyber capacities, sharing technology, and increasing engagement among international partners in order to improve CbT efforts.

• U.S. Southern Command (USSOUTHCOM): USSOUTHCOM provides both strategic and operational support to assist partner-nation militaries and security forces with planning, training, and equipment. USSOUTHCOM seeks to build the capabilities of regional militaries and security forces to confront internal challenges to stability, sovereignty, and security. USSOUTHCOM is committed to working with its partners to counter transnational threats and improve maritime, air, and land-domain awareness capabilities in the AOR. CTFP funding enabled USSOUTHCOM to achieve its regional objectives through tailored CbT educational and training activities. In FY 2014, CTFP-sponsored activities strengthened capabilities of regional militaries and security forces, bringing together a network of CbT experts committed to U.S. efforts against transnational threats.

More than 360 mid- to senior-level military officers and government officials from the region attended CTFP courses throughout multiple education venues in the continental United States and in Regional Centers. Of those, 21 attended Senior Professional Military Education courses with nine earning master's degrees and two attending the Homeland Defense Short Course at NDU in Fort McNair, Washington, D.C. Additionally, USSOUTHCOM conducted two regional MET events and two bilateral METs, attended by an additional 184 participants.

USSOUTHCOM focused the bulk of CTFP discretionary funding on regional multination events hosted in Colombia, with execution by U.S. Special Operations Command South (SOCSOUTH). The SOCSOUTH Multi-Lateral Engagement Program focused on special-operations core missions and was designed to strengthen relationships and to build a persistent venue with a long-term partner, the Colombian War College (Escuela Superior De Guerra (ESDEGUE)). The program focused on the operational and strategic level, with assistance from JSOU and CHDS, as well as significant input and involvement by Colombian and regional alumni.

D. CONTINUING ENGAGEMENT STRATEGY

The CTFP has educated more than 30,000 people (see table below) since 2003. In keeping with its mission to build a network of CbT professionals in partner nations, re-engaging CTFP alumni is a key element in building long-term CbT partnerships – a priority noted frequently by the Secretary of Defense and other U.S. Government leaders. Many of these alumni have taken on increasingly important positions – including chiefs of their military services –since attending CTFP strategic-level courses. By offering graduates new opportunities after their foundational course, it encourages them to remain connected with their fellow CTFP alumni and their schoolhouses. In many cases, this provides an entrée for senior U.S. Government and military leaders to discuss sensitive CbT issues.

Year	Total Number of Countries	Total Number of Participants	Total Expenditures
2002/2003	35		$15.79M
2004	66	1,000	$14.13M
2005	93	2,782	$19.87M
2006	133	3,392	$20M
2007	115	2,737	$19.9M
2008	114	2,343	$23.92M
2009	137	3,223	$33.8M
2010	134	3,521	$29.3M
2011	138	3,026	$33.84M
2012	145	3,300	$32.78M
2013	131	3,098	$32.24M
2014	123	2,050	$27.6M
Grand Total		30,472	$303.17

The program's success and maturity have resulted in the development of a continuing engagement strategy. Implementation began through providing resources and enabling partner institutions to maintain and grow their educational relationships with past participants. This "phase two" of the CTFP allows DoD to realize the value of its investment more fully. The graphic below outlines how the Continuing Engagement strategy builds on the first nine years of the program. Continuing Engagement allows the program to build upon previous coursework and training, to continue to develop and stay involved in the network, and to provide support to graduates in their continued CbT efforts.

As a result of the Continuing Engagement program's success, many U.S. Government departments and agencies have requested access to the network, including: the U.S. Agency for International Development (USAID), the Defense Threat Reduction Agency (DTRA), the Department of State (DOS), the U.S. Army Training and Doctrine Command (TRADOC), and the DIA. Additionally, the reputation of CTFP symposiums has become so strong that beginning in FY 2011 some countries requested out-of-sector invitations and funded participation themselves. As indicated in the table below, continuing engagement events, expenditures, and participation have grown significantly since 2008.

Year	Number of Engagement Events	Total Number of Alumni Re-Engaged	Total Expenditures
2008	2	58	$ 201,715.00
2009	7	157	$ 733,535.00
2010	11	345	$1,757,101.00
2011	12	382	$2,500,000.00
2012	9	250	$2,000,000.00
2013	10	314	$1,746,079.00
2014	3	122	$ 774,252.00
Total	54	1,628	$9,712,682.00

The following sections provide a summary of the events and past participant accomplishments.

E. Global Engagement

The CTFP works with the five Regional Centers (NESA, CHDS, APCSS, ACSS, and GCMC), as well as six academic institutions (NPS/DA, DIA/NIU, NDU/CISA, JSOU, CCMR, and DIILS) to hold resident CbT courses. The academic institutions, by curriculum design and mission, educate students from all regions of the world (as opposed to the more limited focus of the Regional Centers). Each institution's program is unique based on its expertise and area of focus (e.g., special operations, intelligence, civil military relations, and legal). This global classroom design logically translates into global network activities. In FY 2014, most of the Continuing Engagement funding was allotted to global or multi-regional initiatives, summaries of which follow.

George C. Marshall Center Community of Interest Events

The GCMC led three community of interest (COI) workshops in FY 2014, bringing 122 security professionals from 95 countries back to the Center. Three separate programs covered diverse topics related to CbT in the Program on Terrorism and Security Studies, the Seminar in Trans-Atlantic Civil Security (STACS), and the Program in Cyber Security Studies (PCSS). These three Marshall Center resident programs all share regional and global CbT challenges, and integrate these issues into their courses.

COIs provide a forum for active networking (and renewed friendships/relationships) for center alumni who are current security leaders serving in CbT-related positions or are involved in terrorism-related security challenges. They greatly expand professional networks, each COI bringing together graduates from up to 20 different resident courses over the past 15 years. The provision of CbT program updates and sharing of best practices in a plenary and seminar format develop a better understanding of key challenges facing CbT professionals today. Senior DoD leaders address each group to provide the latest U.S. policy updates and receive feedback. Of particular note in FY 2014, the GCMC responded to the increasing and dynamic cyber threat by conducting a Cyber Colloquium and Community of Interest Workshop. Workshop participants examined the current security environment and discussed practical and pragmatic ways to improve regional and international cooperation to counter cyber threats and challenges effectively, both nationally and across international boundaries. The workshop directly supported the goals and objectives of the CTFP by emphasizing the importance of improving partnership capacity to address cyber security, and focus on terrorists' use of the internet. Participants were provided the latest information on countering terrorists and violent extremists' use of the internet to recruit, train, and use social media for terrorist purposes and countering violent extremists' activities on the internet. Discussions also included expert advice on countering emergent methods and trends in terrorist financing via the internet and use of mobile devices. The Colloquium and Community of Interest workshop promoted whole-ofgovernment approaches and activities that prevent the internet from becoming an "ungoverned space and environment" for use by terrorist groups and their supporters.

NIU and USPACOM co-host USPACOM International Intelligence Fellows Program

For the past three years, the CTFP has partnered with the NIU and USPACOM to fund the USPACOM International Intelligence Fellows Program (USPACOM IIFP). The USPACOM IIFP is an academic program that focuses on "Intelligence Support to Combating Terrorism" in the Indo-Asia-Pacific Region.

This program is significant because it directly supports USPACOM's annual Asia-Pacific Intelligence Chiefs Conference (APICC), a forum where the Directors of Military Intelligence from 30 Indo-Asian-Pacific nations, and extra-regional nations with Indo-Asia-Pacific ties, meet to discuss regional issues with a specific focus on intelligence concerns.

During the USPACOM IIFP, students discussed the impediments and opportunities in current Indo-Asia-Pacific counterterrorism cooperation. They identified failed past engagements, political differences, and disagreements in prioritization as elements that impede cooperation. Among their chief concerns was a lack of agility and ability in their government structures to counter the terrorist narrative.

Students stressed the need for capacity building through information sharing – particularly sharing training methods, analytical processes, technology, and counter-threat finance practices. They proposed establishing a working group that will address building cyber capacities and sharing technology, and they recognized the need to increase engagement among international partners, particularly regarding intelligence and information sharing, in order to improve counterterrorism efforts.

Impediments to Indo-Asia-Pacific counterterrorism cooperation and ways to overcome these challenges were briefed to the 2014 APICC CbT working group, which was held in Dhaka, Bangladesh. Additionally, the report of proceedings from the USPACOM IIFP was distributed to the Military Intelligence Directors for review and distribution throughout their intelligence agencies. The Military Intelligence Directors seriously considered the input from the USPACOM IIFP, and they have implemented some of the suggestions given to them by the students in the past. Some Military Intelligence Directors, from nations such as Bangladesh, Papua New Guinea, Philippines, and Nepal, decided to participate in the USPACOM IIFP as students. This level of participation reflects the importance placed on the program.

The CTFP's support to the USPACOM IIFP allows academia to inform intelligence decision makers directly and encourages the Directors of Military Intelligence to consider thoughtfully intelligence-related issues from an academic perspective.

International Intelligence Fellows Program

The National Intelligence University held the 20th iteration of the International Intelligence Fellows Program (IIFP), focused on "Intelligence Support to Combating Terrorism." Twentyone senior intelligence officials from 18 nations participated in course. The IIFP consists of classroom lectures, small group exercises, and offsite visits to national, state, and local intelligence agencies. Since its inception in 2002, the IIFP has graduated more than 350 international intelligence officials and has developed a network of senior intelligence officials who focus on terrorism-related issues.

Several of the IIFP graduates have since been promoted into senior positions, such as the Directors of Military Intelligence or National Security Advisor in their respective nations. CTFP funding allows the National Intelligence University and the Defense Intelligence Agency to educate these future intelligence leaders and provide them with the tools they will need to face the intelligence issues that arise in their nations.

Countering Violent Extremism Continuing Engagement Symposium

The CTFP funded a CVE Continuing Education Symposium for international graduates of the NIU, the JSOU, and the CCMR. The purpose of this symposium was to re-engage graduates from the three institutions in order to foster an enduring network of CbT professionals. The content focused on CVE in Europe, Africa, and the Middle East; encouraged interagency coordination to promote a common intellectual framework in the field of CVE; and allowed these professionals to network with their peers.

This event supported both CTFP and broader DoD goals by developing an understanding within the security establishments of partner countries of the violent extremism threats and developing the capacity of the partner governments to take sustained and effective action against violent extremists. Participants also identified linkages among terrorist groups, criminal networks, narcotics traffickers, terrorists, human traffickers, and insurgents, and they examined methods to minimize terrorist use of failed states and ungoverned or under-governed spaces as safe havens through the building of partner capacity in the use of intelligence, surveillance, and reconnaissance (ISR).

The symposium included lectures, case studies, group discussions, and a group project. The first three days of the symposium focused on intelligence, root causes and trends in violent extremism, extremist ideology, and techniques to counter the extremist message. Additional focus areas included specific forms of violent extremism, communication among individuals and networks, and collaborative tools and cooperation that can be utilized to counter the violent extremist threat.

The most noteworthy aspect of the symposium was the geographic spread of the participants, which allowed them to form trans-regional connections. The true importance of this to the CTFP community is the exchange of lessons learned in the regional fights against violent extremism such as AQIM in Africa, the Taliban in Central Asia, and ISIL in the Middle East. This exchange of ideas and lessons learned contributes to the establishment of trans-regional partnerships, which can become the foundation for future intercontinental security architecture.

G. Program Improvement Initiatives:

The Naval Post Graduate School's Common Operating Research Environment (CORE) The CORE was established at the Naval Postgraduate School (NPS) in 2007 with the mission to support U.S. and international field operatives in the analytical craft of integrating geospatial, cultural, relational, and temporal data in order to develop a comprehensive understanding of the irregular warfare (IW) environment. CORE is the only laboratory in the country that directly focuses visual analytic analysis of IW problem sets in direct support of military personnel in the field.

The CORE program prepares commissioned officers and non-commissioned military officers to return to the force, armed with the ability to apply advanced analytical technologies and methodologies to real-world situations. CORE program efforts are directly applicable to special operations, intelligence, information operations, psychological operations, civil-military operations, counter-insurgency, counter-terrorism, and irregular and asymmetric warfare. Since 2010, the CORE Laboratory has partnered with the CTFP to provide this state-of-the-art training to the growing CbT network. The summaries that follow represent some of the products produced by CTFP students during their time at NPS.

The CTFP partnered with the CORE Laboratory to organize a CbT outreach and education workshop in Abuja, Nigeria, from April 28 – May 6, 2014. The workshop introduced the Nigerian Army Special Operations Command (NASOC) students to intermediate social networking analysis (SNA) theory and techniques. The workshop empowered students to construct and manage data, develop code books, visualize data, and conduct basic SNA. There were 45

NASOC students in attendance for training; Major General Ibrahim Sani from the Nigerian Army was the senior participant. The NASOC nominated 20 top students from the workshop for a follow-on training. These students, many of whom will become a part of the newly created NASOC, will apply their newly acquired skills and techniques to understand better and ultimately degrade real-world networks, such as Boko Haram and Ansaru. This engagement also built direct relationships among the Nigerian military, Nigerian Special Operations Forces Headquarters, and the United States and strengthened the ties necessary to ensure future cooperation and support. Participants provided extremely positive feedback and continue to highlight the importance of international cooperation and corresponding partner networks to combat terrorism.

In addition to the CORE Laboratory the CTFP developed and manages the Global Education and Collaboration Community Online (ECCO). Like the CORE Laboratory, ECCO provides global training and real time communications among the CTFP alumni, the educational institutions, and their U.S. Government counterparts. Plans are underway that will use the ECCO platform to train international students from around the world in a variety of transnational threats, including cross-border traffic and terrorists' use of the internet. The ECCO platform will allow a more cost-effective way to reach a broader audience.

G. Individual Alumni Accomplishments:

The CTFP's flagship master's program at the College of International Security Affairs at National Defense University has produced more than 600 mid- to senior-level graduates since the program began. As the map below indicates, these officials continue to progress into ever more demanding roles in their countries' national security apparatus.

Georgian CbT Fellows: CISA selected a Distinguished Alumni Fellow to advance his education by building a course on irregular warfare challenges facing Eastern Europe and serving as a mentor for the International Counterterrorism Fellows.

Another CISA graduate has been selected to lead Georgia's Transatlantic Relations Division, and is shown here meeting with Secretary of Defense Hagel.

Maldives names CTFP graduate as Director of Counterterrorism: In July 2014, the Maldives named a 2011 CISA graduate as its Director of Counterterrorism. Additionally, the Maldives requested that the United States through the CTFP provide assistance in drafting its national strategy for CbT.

Poland: A 2007 graduate of the CISA program is now a Commodore commanding the most elite maritime special operations unit in Poland. As the commander, he advocated supporting coalition efforts in Afghanistan, and eventually deployed part of his unit there.

Afghanistan: The current Afghan Ambassador to India is a 2009 graduate of the CISA program. Afghan President Karzai awarded him the Medal of Ghazi Wazir for his work in CbT.

Trinidad and Tobago: Major General Kendrick Maharaj was appointed to the Chief of Defense Staff of the Trinidad and Tobago Defense Force on February 1, 2014. Because he attained the highest position in his nation's Armed Forces through military merit, he was inducted into the NDU International Defense Fellows Hall of Fame on September 3, 2014.

G. SUMMARY

The CTFP is a valuable tool in the global fight against terrorism, and fills a crucial void in U.S. efforts to provide targeted international CbT education and training. The close relationship between OSD and the GCCs has developed the program into a strategic tool in the struggle against violent extremism that effectively supports the efforts of the GCCs in achieving their objectives through flexible, targeted international partner education and training. Building on previous efforts, the CTFP made significant strides during FY 2014 to develop and reinforce the CbT capabilities of partner nations, and to strengthen a global network of CbT experts committed to the fight against violent extremism and their proponents. Senior DoD and DOS officials consistently note the value of a global CTFP network and derive benefit through active participation in CTFP activities or by accessing the network to gain a better understanding of partner perceptions and best practices. The CTFP's continued efforts in operationalizing the global network, through a combination of targeted education and virtual communication, will help to ensure that the United States has a vast resource of CbT capability from which to draw in the years to come. In FY 2015 and beyond, the CTFP will continue to develop education and training programs that will prepare the international community to face the emerging terrorist threats of tomorrow.

II. COUNTRY TRAINING ACTIVITIES

The table below presents a breakout of CTFP-funded education and training activities by country.

Reading the Data

- All data in this report is current as of October 1, 2014.
- The training activities and dollar amounts include funds expended to support all course costs, travel and living allowances, and medical expenditures. The FY 2014 dollars and training reported do not reflect the FY 2014 CTFP allocation level for each country because CTFP funds were re-allocated throughout the year, based on changing priorities and evolving requirements.
- A list of acronyms used in the following tables can be found on page II-34.
