Mr. Clark:

This is official confirmation that the Department of Defense (DoD) has approved military assistance in the production of the National Geographic mini-series under the working title "The Long Road Home". We are moving forward with drafting a DoD Production Assistance Agreement and simultaneously coordinating support, access, and assets requested at Fort Hood, Texas. DoD organizations identified in this letter are authorized to initiate pre-production activities necessary to support filming of "The Long Road Home" series.

The U.S. Army will make and Fort Hood will provide limited access to Fort Hood for two periods; January to March 2017 for construction of filming locations in training areas, and March through May 2017 for filming in training areas and the cantonment area. The U.S. Army will also make best efforts to fulfill the assets and personnel requests submitted by the production company. The production company will be required to reimburse DoD for all expenses incurred as a result of providing these assets.

(b)(6)

(b)(6)

Meanwhile, I wish you great success in filming, and I look forward to viewing the completed production.

Sincerely,

(b)(6)

MEMORANDUM FOR THE RECORD

SUBJECT: Potential U.S. Military production support for the National Geographic television adaptation of the Martha Raddatz non-fiction book "The Long Road Home – A Story of War and Family."

(b)(5)

2. If the outcome of the meeting(s) is a consensus that military support is notionally feasible to all concerned, we would move forward to more detailed discussions, leading, hopefully, to the basis for a Department of Defense Production Assistance Agreement, and subsequent orders through Army headquarters.
